Hold Two For Area Burglaries Report Solution To 11 Other Jobs

Efficient police work by two Town of Woodstock constables on Wednesday, which brought commendation from Town Supervisor William R. West, resulted in the apprehension of a 21-year-old youth and a juvenile in connection with local burglaries.

The investigation was conducted by Chief Constable Paul A. Senecal and Constable William Watrous.

Chief Senecal told The Freeman early this afternoon that through questioning of the pair, at least 11 local burglaries have been cleared.

Burglary Charged

Charged with third degree burglary is Robert Gebu, 21, of Woodstock, who was released pending a preliminary examination before Justice of the Peace Robert Ferrigan, Town of Kingston.

A 15-year-old boy, also accused of participation in a burglary at Schneider's on The Corner Store, 1 Mill Hill Road, Woodstock, will be petitioned into Family Court, according to Constable Watrous.

BCI Investigator Joseph Ventriglia assisted in the investigation.

Constable Watrous said Walter Schneider, proprietor of the store, notified town authorities at 6 a. m. yesterday that his business place had been entered and burglarized of cash and merchandise valued at approximately $350.

Seen In Area

Watrous said Gebu and the boy, whose name is withheld because of his age, had been seen in the area early Wednesday before the break was reported. Later in the morning, Watrous said, he and Senecal saw Gebu and the boy walking in the village, the older boy holding a knife and a gun.

Building Inspector George E. Radcliffe today reported issuing a permit to the State of New York National Bank for its branch to be built on a site at Smith Avenue and Grand Street.

Of Colonial design the branch will face Smith Avenue and is to have two drive-up windows. It will be built of area-produced brick.

Board Agenda Includes Rickard Costs, College

Among the matters to come before the Board of Supervisors tonight at the regular July meeting will be a request from District Attorney Joseph Torraca for an additional appropriation of $17,568.02, to meet the needs of his office from now until the end of the year. Included in that request the sum of $4,423.04 to meet the cost of extradition of Raymond G. Rickard Jr., from India to face a first degree murder charge.

Rickard was indicted by a grand jury for murder, first degree arising out of the alleged killing of 2 1/2 year old Victor Rosiello in November 1964. The boy was allegedly brutally beaten to death at a Lake Katrine trailer camp and the body thrown in the Hudson River from the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge.

Loop Suspect Captured After Bloody Massacre

CHICAGO (AP) — Eight student nurses were strangled and knifed to death in their dormitory early today in what one official called "the crime of the century."

One girl escaped to tell the horror.

A man wearing a bloodstained white shirt was seized in mid-morning in downtown Chicago after he had attempted to purchase an air line ticket to New Orleans. Police said later he did not match the description, however.

In what FBI officials termed the worst crime in their recollection, the victims, aged 21 to 23, were killed one at a time during a 2 1/2-hour slaughter binge.

One young woman was strangled in a downstairs living room of the two-story brick town house at 2319 E. 100th St., used by South Chicago Hospital as a dormitory. The scene is a middle class neighborhood in the city's far Southeast Side.

Escaped by Hiding

The survivor, Miss Carazo Amurao, 23, an exchange student from the Philippines, said she escaped death by hiding under a bed. Her story to police was semi-hysterical, but she described a lone killer with blond hair, 6 feet 1, and weighing about 170 pounds.

Meeting Is Slated Tonight on Plans For Rondout Area

A public meeting has been scheduled for 7:30 tonight at the Recreation Center, 97 Broadway to elect a Rondout area committee to advise the Ulster County Community Action Committee on program beneficial to the Rondout area.

The meeting will be under the chairmanship of Douw Meyers Jr., secretary of the Ulster County Community Action Committee.

Speakers will include Rupert Tarver, director of Neighborhood Service Organization of Poughkeepsie and Bernard S. Kramer, regional representative of the New York State Office of Economic Opportunity.

There also will be a public discussion of the problems of the Rondout area and of means for solving community problems through Community Action.

All residents of the Rondout area are urged to attend and voice their opinions.

Chicago Has Second Successive Night Of Negro Rioting, 20 Are Arrested

CHICAGO (AP) — Mobs of Negro youths, throwing fire bombs and bricks, stampeded through two Chicago neighborhoods Wednesday night.

It was the second successive night of violence on Chicago's West Side.

Here is the night's scorecard: Twenty Negro youths were arrested and charged with arson, resisting arrest or disorderly conduct.

Dozens more were seized by police but later released.

More than a dozen policemen were hit by bricks, rocks and bottles but none suffered serious injuries.

At least two neighborhood residents were hit by stray bullets and hospitalized.

Scores of other persons were treated for injuries or hospitalized with wounds ranging from cuts to possible skull fractures.

Fire bombs started many blazes. Dozens of stores were looted. Broken glass from smashed shop windows littered sidewalks and streets.

For the second day in a row, a gushing fire hydrant set off street fighting along Roosevelt Road near the Loop.

Police turned off the hydrant, which had been turned on illegally — although it is a summer tradition in Chicago to cool off with gushing fire hydrants. Temperatures were in the 80s. Tuesday's disturbance had started the same way.

The onlooking Negroes shouted "police brutality!" and claimed that police hit children with swinging nightsticks. Soon rocks and bottles began to crash in the police ranks.

Many of the rock throwers were adults and some were only 10 or 11 years old.

Blue-helmeted police charged the ragged lines of rock throwers, firing warning shots into the air.

Nobody was wounded during the exchange of gunfire.

Earlier, two Negroes received gunshot wounds in separate incidents. Both victims told hospital officials they had been standing in their apartments when bullets whizzed through windows, wounding them.

When darkness fell, fire bombs again began to be arched from rooftops and out of the alleys.

Firemen answering calls were pelted with rocks. At one point, three fire bombs burst in the middle of a group of firemen fighting a blaze set by other fire bombs.

Some 30 policemen charged into the alley behind the burning structure, cursing the jeering Negroes and ordering them out of the way. They were greeted with sporadic gunfire and fired back.

Phew! 100 Again But Not New Mark for Date Here; Report U. S. Toll at 106

By FRED SNYDER
Freeman Staff Writer

No temperature records were set or broken here Wednesday but a local high of 100 degrees was not enough to send over 700 area residents swarming to Kingston Point Beach to cool off.

Officials in the City Engineer's Office said the mercury leveled out at an even hundred about 3 p. m. This was just a few degrees short of the all-time high of 106 set July 13, 1936.

90 or Better Since June 27

High temperatures of 90 degrees or better have been recorded in Kingston every day this summer since Monday, June 27. Tuesday's high of 101 was a record for that day.

As New York City people were sweating through a record 101-degree weather Wednesday, local residents walking past the big thermometer—time clock in front of First Federal Savings and Loan Association on Fair Street told Freeman reporters they saw readings of 101 and 102.

Bank officials, however, said the mercury was still at 100 at closing time 4 p. m.

U. S. Toll 106

The three-week-old heat wave has claimed at least 106 lives across the nation, the Associated Press reported today.

And it looked as though today would be another thermal back-breaker, as readings jumped 15 degrees in two and a half hours this morning at the Engineer's Office. The marker moved from 72 to 87 between 7:30 and 10 a. m.

Pools Overcrowded

Children from all over the city bombarded swimming pools in local parks to get away from the heat in their homes and their heat-weary mothers Wednesday afternoon. Summer Recreation Department employees at Forsyth Park and Block Park said the pools were "overcrowded all day long."

Bathers arrived in droves at

Award Contract For $92,374 on Paltz Renovation

Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller announced today the award of two contracts totaling $92,374 to two Albany firms for renovation work at the State University College at New Paltz.

The State University Construction Fund has awarded a $84,815 contract to J. N. Futia Co. for the air conditioning of the existing Parker Dining Hall while A-E Architectural Materials, Inc. received a $7,559 contract for the replacement of exterior doors on the Campus Demonstration School Building and the installation of exterior lighting in certain areas of the campus.

Governor Rockefeller said, "Thomas O'Leary Electric Co., Kingston, is the electrical subcontractor for the latter project."

"Both of these contracts are to be completed by mid-September," the Governor added.

Although no serious incidents were reported in any of the parks, there was a slight skirmish between two youngsters scrambling for the deepest point in the Forsyth pool about 2:30 p. m.

And Marlin Morette, who was conducting the band concert in Academy Green last night, also thought it was pretty hot outside. He had to stop after each number to wipe the sweat pouring down hands and forehead so the show could continue. The temperature was 94 degrees for the duration of the concert.

But the heat wave didn't seem to damage anybody's health. Emergency rooms at Kingston and Benedictine Hospitals reported no persons suffering from heat prostration throughout the day.

Two More MIG's Felled By U. S. Air Missiles

Expect Chemical Will Prevent Space Fogging

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — When Gemini 10 astronaut Michael Collins takes a space walk next week he doesn't expect his helmet visor to fog up — a problem that forced an early end to Eugene A. Cernan's stroll outside Gemini 9 last month.

Shot Set Monday

Scientists have come up with a chemical that will be rubbed on the visor. It is called simply 350-AP, and has been used in cleaning optical devices.

Air Force Maj. Collins and Navy Cmdr. John W. Young are to ride into space next Monday on a double rendezvous and space-walk mission. They are to blast off atop a Titan 2 rocket at 6:21 p. m. EDT, 100 minutes after an Atlas hurled an Agena target satellite into orbit.

The astronauts plan to link up with the Agena six hours after launching and then fire the Agena engine to shoot to a record 400 miles into space. This will put them in position to rendezvous two days later with another Agena left in space after the Gemini 8 flight in March.

Collins is to spend 55 minutes outside the spacecraft, using a 50-foot tether and a gas-powered hand gun to maneuver around the Agena 8.

He plans to remove one micrometeorite detection package from the old Agena and attach another for a future spaceman to retrieve.

Caused by Sweat

Earlier in the flight he plans a less ambitious 55-minute excursion in which he opens his hatch and sticks his head into space to conduct photographic and scientific experiments.

Cernan's visor fogging was caused by a sweat from a heavier-than-expected work load as he struggled to don a rocket-

Communist troops were believed to be massing.

The Air Force said the first MIG kill today was scored at 12:10 p. m. in the Red River Valley about 22 miles northwest of Hanoi.

Three minutes later the second delta-wing MIG21 was shot down 50 miles northwest of the North Vietnamese capital.

Capt. William J. Swender, 31, of Alamogordo, N.M., and 1st Lt. Duane A. Buttell, 25, of Chillicothe, Ill., brought down the first Communist jet.

Rochester Town Board Discusses Tax Exemptions

The regular Town Board meeting of the Town of Rochester was held on July 7 at the town clerk's office. Supervisor Franklin S. Kelder discussed the newly enacted Section 467, Chapter 616 of the Real Property Tax Law, which enables municipalities to enact a local law granting a 50 per cent tax exemption on real property owned by persons 65 years of age or over, providing they meet the statutory requirements.

The town board would like to make a study as to the effect this would have on the Tax Roll if this were passed by local law; therefore, the board asks that the property owners that meet the requirements contact the town clerk's office or Supervisor Kelder.

The following requirements must be met: All owners of the real property must be 65 years of age or over at the time of applying; must have had title to the property for at least five years prior to applying; property must be used exclusively for residential purposes and be their legal residence; the income of all owners must have been $3,000 or less during the 12 month period preceding date of application and the combined income of husband and wife may not exceed $3,000.

Justice Abram D. Smith suggested that the town contact the State Traffic Commission, to request that a stop sign be installed at the intersection of the Queen's Highway with Route 209. Board members present agreed with this suggestion.

Councilman Morris questioned the legality of the town having white lines painted on town highways, and pointed out of the dangerous condition on the Granite Road, due to cars passing. He felt that the lines would lessen the dangers.

Town Attorney Albert Lonsdale will write to the State Traffic Commission regarding this matter. Superintendent Richard Gray pointed out that there are no pavement markings on any of the town or county highways, and he suggested that caution and keep to the right signs be installed.

Complaints About Dogs
Basil Decker, a resident, was present and expressed his views on the great number of dogs that are running at large; also that they are continually barking and chasing and killing young deer. He asked if anything could be done about the situation. Supervisor Kelder said that the matter will be looked into. The Town of Rochester does not have an ordinance in effect to control dogs running at large. Decker also suggested installation of deer crossing signs on certain sections of Samsonville Road.

Town Attorney Albert Lonsdale read and reviewed the Auto Junkyard Law that was passed by the State Legislature last year. He pointed out that the town may also pass a local ordinance to control this, if they so desire.

A discussion was held on the Permanent Personal Registration that will be required in 1967.

A certificate was received from the U. S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of Census, which certified that the Official Population count of the 1966 special census of the Town of Rochester is 3,452; a gain of 440 persons since the 1960 federal census. Also received was a tabulation of the population by age, race and sex. This will be on file in the town clerk's office.

The following persons were appointed to serve as Town Constables: Michael Vurchio, and Arthur Weinstein, Accord, New York.

The following named persons were approved to serve as Republican inspectors of election: Joan Knudsen, High Falls; Helen J. Schoonmaker, Accord; Esther Lawrence, Ann D. Morgan, Flossie Feltman and Samantha Keator, Kerhonkson.

File Letter

A letter from Joseph S. Barbiar, secretary of the Kerhonkson Shopping Plaza, Inc., was received and read, which related to the water system in the Timothy Estates housing development. The letter proposed that the Town of Rochester purchase the water system. Following a discussion it was agreed that the letter be filed.

A lengthy discussion was held on the planning board. It was agreed that a meeting will be held with the planning board, and that the meeting will be combined with the regular highway department to be held on July 15 at 8:30 p. m. in the First Municipal Building in Pataunkunk.

Deer Chases Dogs

GREGORY, Mich. (AP) — two dogs barking. She looked Mrs. Clifford Howlett heard her out the window and saw a white-tailed deer chase one of the dogs up on to the porch.

After flower boxes had been overturned, Mrs. Howlett said recently, the deer turned her attention to the other dog, which fled into the woods with the deer in pursuit.

The dog returned half an hour later, panting but unharmed, Mrs. Howlett said.

Senate Approves $6-Billion to Fight Pollution

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved unanimously a vast, six-year, $6-billion program to combat pollution of the nation's shores, rivers, lakes and water supplies.

Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, floor manager of the measure, said, after the bill was approved, 90-0, Wednesday, that the program was a "minimum start."

The bill, which was sent to the House, follows President Johnson's proposal for cleaning up the nation's rivers in a basin-wide approach.

Muskie said perhaps $100 billion or more would be needed to carry out a complete pollution-control program. He said the funds approved Wednesday would pay part of the $20 billion estimated as necessary to get the national program under way.

Under terms of the bill, the federal government could pay up to 50 per cent of sewage disposal and treatment costs, with states paying 30 per cent and local communities and industries meeting the remaining 20 per cent.

Use of the funds would begin with a $150-million authorization for the current fiscal year, stepping up tenfold to $1.5 billion for the fiscal year, starting July 1, 1971.

Local, state and interstate agencies would join to develop plans for ending contamination of river basins. Projects outside the river basins would be eligible for federal funds of 30 to 40 per cent.

Had Three-Ring Fight

Analyzes Results of Dems Vote in Virginia Primary

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP) — In good as another's. And this certainly applies to this week's election post-mortems one complicated, three-ring Demo-man's guess generally is as cratic primary in Virginia.

One conclusion that may be drawn, though, is that regionalism appears to be on the decline in the Old Dominion.

Had Served 55 Years
With years of combined service and the chairmanship of two congressional committees, Sen. A. Willis Robertson and Rep. Howard W. Smith were particularly well-positioned to press Virginia's interests in Washington.

In their campaigns, Robertson, whose daily newspaper advertisements described him as Virginia's "bread and butter man," and Smith, to a lesser degree, played on this theme. But Virginia Democrats apparently threw them over (the margins are based on unofficial returns) for two newcomers on the national political scene who seem more in tune with the party's national image.

George C. Rawlings Jr., the Fredericksburg lawyer who edged Smith, the chairman of the House Rules Committee, campaigned as a "national Democrat," though not a Johnson Democrat.

Has Liberal Tag
William B. Spong Jr., the Portsmouth attorney who shadowed Robertson, chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, also appears to have a liberal tag, at least by Virginia standards.

Assuming they defeat their Republican opponents in November, Rawlings and Spong are considered a better bet to give President Johnson's program the kind of support Robertson and Smith usually withheld.

To some observers, the 79-year-old Robertson and the 83-year-old Smith seemed to be vestiges of an antebellum Virginia. With increasing industrialization, the state has been losing its rural character. Its outlook appears to be becoming more national, its provincialism receding.

And yet, at the same time, Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr. was able to fight off Armistead L. Boothe, a northern Virginia attorney who argued Byrd's record was not attuned to modern times.

And so, like all political theories, it's how you look at things. The demise of the poll tax probably had considerable effect. The Negro vote grew to just under a quarter-million. Obviously, there was little in the records of Robertson and Smith, longtime opponents of civil rights legislation, to recommend them to Negro voters.

Stayed Out
In southern Virginia, a customary source of strength to the Byrd organization, third party conservatives apparently stayed out of the primary — the law says they should but there is no registration check at the polls — in large numbers.

Similarly, Republican leaders advised their party members to wait until November.

In the heavily populated areas of northern Virginia, where allegiance to the national Democratic party is probably strongest and liberalism most popular, the insurgents scored heavily. This was true, too, of the Portsmouth-Norfolk area, where industry is booming.

Evidently working against Smith was reapportionment of his district to include rapidly growing Washington suburbs. Recently moved-in young suburbanites may have felt little in common with the venerable, folksy judge.

Ousted Minister Ends Protest March, Departs

By WALTER GRAY
MCALLEN, Tex. (AP)—Wendie Scott's protest march is over, and he is packing to get out of a Church of Christ school building he was ordered to vacate.

Scott joined a Fourth of July march of striking Mexican-American farm workers in the Rio Grande Valley to dramatize demands for union recognition and a $1.25-an-hour minimum wage for field hands who now earn 80 cents to $1 an hour.

Asked to Quit
Scott was asked by elders of McAllen's Harvey Drive Church of Christ to quit the march. When he refused, he was told to move out of the church-owned building he used for a school to train Mexicans for the ministry. The students, nine of them, are having to pack, too. The building doubled as a dormitory.

"If we can rent a large house or if someone will supply us with a large place, we'll move there," said Scott. "Failing that, we'll move into my house, which is too small even for my own family."

He and his wife, Maria, have five children. An elder of the church, E. L. Crawford, said that because of Scott's participation in the march "we (the elders) felt that his influence as a Gospel preacher and teacher of students had been ruined."

Crawford said Scott originally was given until July 12 to move but the deadline was extended to July 23 because Scott said he needed more time to pack 1,100 books and get his office equipment and furniture out.

Others in March
Other clergymen, including Baptists, also have joined the field hands' march. There have been no reports of pressure on them to desist.

Scott, a graduate of Abilene (Tex.) Christian College, said loss of the building amounts to about $200 a month, and that he has been notified by elders of Highland Church of Christ in Abilene that he will lose $390 a month that church had contributed to the school's monthly budget of $1,200.

"There have been a few new contributions and promises of contributions, mostly $4 and $10 — nothing like we're apparently going to lose," Scott said in an interview.

He said his mail hasn't been especially heavy — about 30 letters — but claimed, "It's about two to one favorable."

Scott, a native of Enid, Okla., said he would seek work as a printer and teach at night, if necessary, to keep the school going.

Upstate Newsman Dies

LACKAWANNA, N.Y. (AP) — Gene Korzelius of Buffalo, a former sportscaster and a former sportswriter for the Buffalo Evening News, is dead at 65.

Korzelius, a native of Buffalo, died Wednesday in Our Lady of Victory Hospital here after a five-week illness.

He entered the newspaper field in 1921 with the Buffalo Courier-Express and later joined the Cleveland Plain Dealer and the old Buffalo Times.

Korzelius covered sports for the News from 1928 to 1944 and served as assistant sports editor. He announced sports for WBNY in Buffalo from 1944 to 1959. When the radio station discontinued sports coverage, Korzelius worked in public relations.

He is survived by his widow, Loretta, three brothers and four sisters.

Korzelius lived at 26 St. Martin's Place.

Would Return Some Taxes for Education

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Howard Robison, R-N.Y., suggests that two per cent of the federal income taxes collected in a state be returned to the state for use in education.

Robison, of Oswego, introduced a bill to that effect in the House Wednesday and said:

"State and local communities are finding it increasingly difficult to invoke fair means of taxation to adequately support their schools."

He maintained his approach would provide badly needed money for schools and preserve the independence of local school boards.

NLRB Hearing on GE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board plans a hearing on a complaint by the International Union of Electrical Workers that the General Electric Co. has failed to meet with a bargaining committee.

The board ordered the hearing Wednesday to be held in New York City but set no date.

The IUE and seven other AFL-CIO unions say they organized the committee to provide each other with negotiators and to coordinate bargaining for new work contracts.

E-J Reports Big Gain Over '65 Period

ENDICOTT, N. Y. (AP) — Endicott Johnson Corp., shoe manufacturers, reports first-half earnings of $1.79 a share, up from 11 cents a share for the corresponding period a year ago. Eli G. White, company president, said Wednesday that total first-half net earnings for 1966 were $943,604 while the 1965 net for the first six months was $165,69.

He said this year's earnings included $651,18 from the sale of 50¢ property. Net sales for the first half of the year totaled $72,729,100, compared with $69,400,000 for the equivalent 1965 period.

PATHOLOGISTS ON TRIAL

The key role of the pathologist in modern medicine may not be widely understood by the general public. The public must be keenly aware, however, that the pathological tests performed in medical laboratories are expensive.

This lends particular interest to the Justice Department's antitrust suit contending that the College of American Pathologists has conspired to rig fees and to put out of business those laboratories not owned by its members. The government says that in consequence the charges for urinalyses, blood counts and other pathological services are fixed "at artificially high levels." It also maintains that this has unnecessarily raised the cost of hospital and medical insurance.

These are serious charges which merit, and now will have, a full hearing in the courts. No prejudgment is warranted.

But neither was Oliver J. Neibel Jr., executive director of the College of Pathologists, warranted in describing the suit as "the first step in a campaign of harassment" of the medical profession. He bases this conclusion on the timing of the suit, which was filed on the heels of the American Medical Association's annual sessions and just as Medicare went into effect. That is flimsy evidence on which to base an assertion that the government is out to harass the medical profession.

The profession would be better advised to offer its full cooperation in getting to the bottom of the Justice Department's charges. For these charges against the College of Pathologists call into question the degree to which the profession is honoring its self-imposed code on medical ethics. If the code has not been widely violated that will be brought out in the trial. If there has been a widespread conspiracy for many years, as Justice contends, it is high time for a crackdown.

FEWER SHUN CHURCH

The statistics of church membership and attendance are not very solid ground on which to base conclusions about a people's depth of religious feeling. Too many factors other than faith and belief are involved.

It is interesting, nevertheless, to find that according to a generally reliable poll the percentage of Americans who attend church has risen somewhat in recent years. This tends to undermine the rather common judgment that Americans are becoming less and less a church-going people, and that there is a consequent decline in our national morality.

If there is a decline in morality, it does not necessarily reflect a falling-away from the churches. This might seem a fair conclusion, at any rate, to be drawn from the church attendance pattern shown in the poll referred to.

The poll indicates that 33 per cent of Protestants do not go to church. The comparable figure for Catholics was 13 per cent, and for Jews 39 per cent. These figures compare with the following percentages in a poll 14 years ago: 32 per cent non-attendance among Protestants, 18 per cent among Catholics, 56 per cent among Jews. Thus here is a small overall decline in the percentage of Americans who stay away from church.

One cannot make too much of that. Still, the figures do contradict the notion that more and more Americans have given up church attendance.

TROUBLE WITH OUR WORDS

We are having terrible trouble with our words. There's this phrase "black power," which has provoked a storm of misunderstanding that threatens to wreck the whole civil rights movement. The trouble is that it seems to make no distinction between different kinds of power. Its economic and political faces seem hopelessly confused. Economic power, honestly pursued and honestly earned, can bring a minority ethnic group up in the world, and when this happens the political power that grows out of economic success is usually exercised temperately and scares no one. The self-sufficient Irish, the Jews, the Italians, the Poles, who often vote as blocs, are adepts at the art of compromise. But when the new leaders of the Congress of Racial Equality and the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee began talking about fighting for "black power," they left some of the older Negro leaders—for example the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King and Roy Wilkins—with the distinct impression that they were thinking about something that is appropriate to the partisan or guerrilla mentality of resistance bands in an underdeveloped colonial country. "Black power," in this sense, would connote the use of force to seize economic power from an old-fashioned exploiting class.

It is not for the separatist and anti-white overtones that go with the "black power" movement, this columnist would actually be all for it. When Jimmy Brown, the famous fullback of the Cleveland Browns, spoke of organizing Negro capital to finance Negro businesses, and let it be known that he would welcome Black Muslim participation in the necessary banking operations, he was criticized for it. Yet the only real hope for any minority is to build its economic power. This is what Negroes and my friend George Schuyler have been trying for years to tell the leaders of the civil rights movement. Once there is a big Negro middle class, with its own shops, credit unions, automobile agencies, real estate projects and what-not, a shared political power will almost automatically follow in places where the Negro vote is ponderable enough to get it. But when "black power" is taken to mean an attempt by one-tenth of the total American population to impose its will on the other nine-tenths, then it risks a white backlash that would have all the force of vastly superior numbers and wealth on its side.

The Jimmy Brown-George Schuyler approach is the best approach, yet there's no sense in ignoring the difficulties that stand in the way of its success. Dr. Thomas Matthews' struggle to raise the capital for his Interfaith Hospital in the New York City borough of Queens gives dramatic evidence that the Negro is frequently confronted with the need for paying what might be called colonial-country interest rates. Long before the current civil rights movement, Negroes in Harlem tried to establish their own grocery stores only to discover that they couldn't get credit from the same sources that were willing to support white markets. So, when a Negro boy in Harlem says the whites "feel that colored people can't control their own stores and things," the statement is quite understandable. White hypocrisy is now paying the penalty for its sins of other days.

The past, however, is the past. If bloodshed is to be avoided in the future, the use of such slogans as "black power" must give way to clear analysis of different kinds of power. The fear that political power will be used to seize the economy of the white people who have legitimately earned it provoked the apartheid movement in South Africa, and it is currently to blame for the impasse in Rhodesia. Blown up by the menacing gestures of a movement that seems anti-white, such a fear could do infinite damage to the continued progress of civil rights in America.

The DOCTOR SAYS

Tumor Growth Rate No Malignancy Sign

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

When you have a tumor the first thing you, doctor tries to find out is whether it is benign or malignant. In general, benign tumors, which include cysts or hollow tumors filled with fluid and solid tumors, feel spongy or rubbery. Malignant tumors, which include all forms of cancer, have a stony hardness.

The rate of growth of a tumor rarely helps to place it in the benign or malignant class but, although a benign tumor may attain a great size, it never extends beyond the tissue capsule that separates it from other organs. A malignant tumor, on the other hand, even when it is still quite small may be found on microscopic examination to have invaded the tissue of an organ adjacent to the one in which it started. That is one reason your doctor likes to take a small piece (biopsy specimen) of a tumor to see what it is.

Another reason for a biopsy is that a trained pathologist can often differentiate between the cells in a benign tumor which look like normal cells of the affected organ and malignant cells which are abnormal even for the organ of their origin.

Cancers have another unfortunate characteristic—they metastasize. By that we mean that a few cancer cells may break away from the original or primary tumor, enter the blood or lymph stream and come to rest in a remote part of the body where they proceed to form one or more secondary malignant tumors. There is why, often when a cancer is removed there is a recurrence within a few months or a few years.

Only when your doctor is sure of the nature of a tumor can he advise whether an operation is necessary and whether or not it should be done without delay.

Q—Could a 12-year-old boy react to penicillin by having a convulsion? He had no fever, rash or other symptoms.

A—No, but doctors now discourage routine douching. Nature does a better job of feminine hygiene unaided.

"If You Forget Your Lines, Remember I'm Right Here in the Wings!"

Washington News

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

Washington Correspondent,
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

LOS ANGELES (NEA) —

Democratic governors taking a firm stand behind President Johnson on the Viet Nam war, are here and there privately expressing resentment against members of Congress who are reportedly "running away from the President" because of his present low status in the public polls.

For weeks there have been accounts of congressmen removing Johnson's picture from their campaign literature or shoving it deep inside. Many are said to have prayed quietly that he would not try to campaign for them, even though a fair proportion of these are first-termers who rode in on his ample 1964 coattails.

In one of the strongest outbursts of contempt and disgust this reporter has ever heard from any politician speaking of fellow party members, a veteran Democrat said:

"Those guys (the first-termers) are riding a leaky boat. I hope they lose."

The same governor went on to say that the President is almost sure to rise substantially in the polls and that the congressmen who presently are deserting him for fear of being hauled down to defeat will then look extremely foolish.

Even as he was uttering this comment, the state poll in California shows an improvement of several points in the President's poll status since his decision to bomb oil storage facilities close to Hanoi and Haiphong in North Viet Nam.

Another Democratic governor was almost equally contemptuous of what he sees as the fickleness of freshmen congressmen turning on the President who got them elected in the first place. A good many others shared these sentiments.

Pervading their reactions, of course, is the attitude that the war is taking a fairly optimistic turn and that the President is sure to benefit from kinder public judgments of her performance as this upturn is realized.

But the matter does not end there. The angry governor who said he hoped the "cut-and-run" congressmen would lose asserted his conviction that the President merited wide support on the war issue from Democratic officeholders through thick and thin.

It is this Democrat's view that those officeholders who think the President's Viet Nam policies are correct should ignore the decline in his popularity and go to bat for him, regardless of the political consequences to themselves.

More than a few observers at the National Governors Conference have wondered why the governors seem to exhibit so much more spunk than some congressmen in the matter of standing with the President.

One governor's aide suggested that governors generally are more accustomed to being on the political firing line and thus tend naturally to be nervier.

More than that, it can be contended that as compared to the average congressman their support is more broadly based in their home states and they are therefore much less vulnerable. Many lawmakers win by narrow margins in highly limited districts. They are skittish at the first sign of trouble, especially when they are new to office.

Yet there is also evidence, drawn from their comments, that governors feel a peculiar bond with any president, not simply with Lyndon B. Johnson. Though their sphere of power is far smaller than his, the governors and the president are "chief executives under the skin."

They have a natural sympathy for any fellow chief executive under attack or suffering desertions among his backers. Some clearly believe, too, that in their positions of substantial and highly visible authority they have a positive duty to support the President of the United States.

As much as some feel disgust for the congressmen who do not share their boldness, the Democratic governors do not expect the President to visit any sort of telling revenge upon these lawmakers. Johnson needs their votes in support of future programs. He knows it—and so do the congressmen now turning his picture to the wall.

But the governors obviously would not blame the President if he lost all capacity to warm up to these men and hereafter treated them with the cold contempt shown for them in many Democratic quarters at this conference.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Remember when we could drive over the Rhinebeck and Kingston Ferry, thus get to the other side very conveniently and also enjoy the Hudson River, some two mile width of it. Sometimes on Sundays, folks used to take the trip on the ferry, go to the other side, enjoy the large modern railroad station with its many express trains, and then come back over the Hudson River again on the 'Big Ferry' as we called her. I have a small card of the Ferry Schedule, dated Thursday, Dec. 27, 1934. She ran winter and summer, but when the Hudson froze real tight, so that folks could walk over, she would stop for a while. Many people would use the ferry to go to work, as she would start to run around 6:30 in the morning and run till nearly 8 in the evening. The ferry made connections for all the "good trains" as they used to say. Now of course we have this magnificent Rhinecliff to Kingston Bridge, which is some two miles out of the center of town or more and you waste no end of time, getting to it, over it and back out of the new wilderness on the other side, but of course that is progress, or is it?

My readers, friends, and former neighbors of the sixth ward, who were forced to move for all the so called "progress" often bring me articles - and newspapers, which contain interesting items. In the name of progress, of 1966, in this spraying against this and that, around which Rachel Carson, wrote Silent Spring. I read recently in the local paper where a town of 800 in America had to be evacuated because a low flying plane sprayed with a deadly poison instead of something else. In one of the magazines loaned to me, they say to take extra care when buying any kind of handsome fruit or vegetables, many are sprayed, even when packed. Washing may not be enough to remove chemical.

I was also told, that when celowrapped vegetables, are too clean, and no particle of the dirt they are grown in remain they might have been dipped in some water treated chemically which gives them that "sterile, clean, gives them life" in the days, when we had normal times, and progress did not tell us what to eat, where to live, and throw us out of our homesteads, farmers used to come to town in the evening when their work was done. They brought, home-grown, Ulster County berries, carrots, parsnips, fruits in season.

Lindsay Faces Crime Wave, Police Brutality Problems

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Mayor Lindsay of New York City faced a problem this week that not only concerns every city in the country, but is related to the civil rights movement, the crime wave and the whole question of how to deal with "police brutality."

The mayor and police commissioner of New York City have appointed two Negroes and a Puerto Rican to the newly created police review board of seven. A white member named as chairman of the board—Algeron D. Black—happens to be a vice president and director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. There are three police officials—one of them a Negro—and four civilians on the board.

Motivation Involved

The real trouble is not in the composition of the board itself but rather in the motivation of the mayor, who felt he had to appoint representatives from minority and civil-rights groups in order to satisfy public opinion. This is not a novel formula, though the principle is hardly one of which government—federal, county or city—can be proud. For presumably when legal matters are under consideration, judges or members of quasi-judicial boards should be chosen not on the basis of their preconceptions or political beliefs or prejudices, but on the ability or judicial capacity they may possess.

Even, however, in appointments to the Supreme Court of the United States, presidents have often felt that, for political reasons they had to select justices of one religion or another so as to balance the membership. Any inference that a choice has been made on the basis of ideology or political philosophy has repeatedly been minimized. But the truth is that the judges of the highest court in the land are picked today from among those who have shown by their previously expressed attitudes that they represent a particular point of view.

In establishing a board to review allegations of "brutality," every city is up against a preconceived notion that the police commission itself will always rule on the side of the police. The concept of a disinterested board is, therefore, understandable. But when it comes to selecting members, the question is whether the public interest is served when any consideration is given weight except ability and honest-mindedness.

It is doubtful also whether any racial or religious group will be satisfied with just a minority representation on any board. To meet such objections, theoretically at least, it would be necessary to appoint to a civilian board seven Puerto Ricans or seven Negroes, as the case may be.

Can't Be Impartial

There is no way by which a civilian board can pass impartially on all cases if political or social prejudices are to be regarded as requiring special attention. Perhaps the only way out is to appoint a new board every time a controversy arises involving a certain race or color or nationality or religion. In the long run, civilian review boards may do more harm than good. The policemen themselves may be hesitant to take effective measures in quelling disorders. Many policemen do not want to be placed under charges and required to stand trial as if they themselves were criminals.

The mere fact that the mayor of a large city feels that he cannot administer justice without catering to special groups is a disappointing trend in American governmental life. Only in extreme cases where the evidence is clear-cut is justice likely to be obtained. Where there is doubt about facts the members of a civilian board might be inclined to vote their prejudices against a policeman accused of wrongdoing. The controlling consideration will be sentimental or emotional.

Demands for civilian boards to review charges of "police brutality" have raised controversies in Chicago and Philadelphia and other major cities. New York City's experience will be watched with acute interest throughout the country.

The defendants: Scott Paper Co., S.D. Warren Co., Abitibi Corp., Menasha Corp., American Excelsior Corp. and Hammermill Paper Co.

Hercules Outlines Plans to Build Lab for Research

A new multimillion-dollar fiber research and development laboratory will be built near Raleigh, N. C., by the Fibers & Film Department of Hercules Incorporated, it was announced today.

The new facility will be constructed on a 44-acre site in the Research Triangle Park, located between Raleigh, Durham and Chapel Hill, N. C. The laboratory initially will comprise 132,000 gross square feet and will be staffed at the beginning with approximately 125 people. Hercules' local plant is at Port Ewen.

The new laboratory will provide facilities for all the experimental programs now carried out in Hercules' Covington, Va., plant on "Herculon" olefin fibers. The fiber research and development facilities were located at Covington in 1961, when Hercules embarked on a development program to commercialize polypropylene fibers.

Paul L. Johnstone, general manager of the Fibers & Film Department said, "this move to new location demonstrates the company's conviction that Herculon (Hercules) name for its polypropylene fiber has a bright future in the American market. Moving the research and development people to a research-oriented environment should help to attract and retain capable people trained in the skills provided by the adjacent universities. The technical environment should prove stimulating for our research staff as we move forward."

Johnstone added that the laboratory will also be readily accessible for visits by major customers.

Research Triangle Park is located within 15 miles of three major universities, Duke, North Carolina State, and the University of North Carolina.

Already located in the Research Triangle Park are textile research facilities of Chemstrand, Beaulieu, the American Association of Textile Chemists and Colorists, the Camille Dreyfus Laboratory, and other research facilities such as International Business Machines, the North Carolina Science and Technology Research Center, and the National Center for Environmental Health Sciences of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Averback Points To Present Day Slapstick Stars

By HY AVERBACK
(For Cynthia Lowry)

EDITOR'S NOTE—Hy Averback is the producer of ABC's "F Troop," a sort of 1860 Bilko show set in the Old West. It is notable for the fact that it contains what are called "blocked-comedy sequences" and plenty of slapstick. Averback is an actor and director who specializes in broad comedy.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Slapstick buffs bemoan the fact that the great physical comedians are all gone. They cry that no new stars in this generation have come along to replace them.

I don't agree.

Of course we miss Buster Keaton. Certainly there were too few Stan Laurels. And most of us look fondly at those old Charlie Chaplin two-reelers whenever they are shown. However, as long as there are talents around like my gang in "F Troop," there will always be slapstick on tap for those who enjoy it—and I think that takes in most of us.

Actors Out of Stunt Men

"F Troop" is one of the very few shows on television today that can take full advantage of this classic comedy form. Most series are handicapped because their formats preclude the strictly physical joke—or because their performers aren't capable of handling this sort of humor.

Broad-sight gags were part of the original blueprint for "F Troop," and the show was intentionally cast with people who had ability in this field. We've even made actors out of stunt men in some instances.

In the great slapstick comedies of the past, the audience always knew something funny was going to happen to the comic—and soon. When the camera was on Chaplin as he walked in his peculiar way, it was inevitable that something hilarious would happen to him.

To watch Ken Berry, who plays our Capt. Parmenter, walk across the Ft. Courage compound is to watch a disaster in the making. You know that before he reaches the assembled troop he will have tripped over the hitching rail, tangled his scabbard in a horse's bridle, or accidentally fired the fort's only cannon and shot down the lookout tower—again.

Play It to Hilt

Only a trained dancer like Berry could manage this. Forrest Tucker and Larry Storch—two more inventive low comedians have never existed. Larry has revived one of the finest old bits in vaudeville, using his battered hat as a disciplinary weapon. Tucker is the scheming, expressive con man in the best burlesque tradition. They're all not only willing but capable of going the slapstick route, playing it to the hilt. Very few of their contemporaries are willing to fall down, mug, cry or take a pie in the face in every series outing—even to get good solid laughs.

Saugerties Methodist Church Sends Delegates To Jersey Parley

Mrs. David Jones, secretary of the Missionary Education of Saugerties Methodist Church and Mrs. George Transom, conference president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, are attending the Christian School of Mission at Drew University, Madison, N. J. this week.

Vacation Bible school at the church ended Friday, July 8, with an average attendance of 100 for the nine days. Money which the children brought each day will be forwarded to the New York City Society for the World of Summer program which will bring hundreds of children from the city to summer camps.

Parents visited the classes on the last day and heard the songs and Bible stories and inspected crafts prepared by each class.

Will Start Work On Parking Lot

Construction on a new parking lot for the Saugerties Power and Boat Club on Ferry Street will begin within a week and is scheduled for completion Aug. 1.

John Mayone Jr., local contractor, was low bidder for the job Tuesday with a sum of $2,600. Only other bidder was Simpson Pavement Company.

Glasco Bazaar Is Set July 15-16

Glasco Fire Company will hold its annual bazaar and fireworks display Friday and Saturday at the Glasco Little League Field.

As usual, bazaar will feature many games and food varieties. Saturday after the bazaar is over the fireworks display will take place.

Firemen will also continue to canvas the district for donations. Free parking will be available for the weekend's events.

Given 30 Days

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Mark Teich, 19, of Buffalo, N.Y., who staged a sit-in at the Selective Service office with a companion, has been sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Teich, a student at Miami Dade Junior College, and Marc Grip, 18, of Orange City, Fla., were sentenced Wednesday by Municipal Judge Meyer M. Brilliant, on charges of disorderly conduct.

No appeal bond was set after the sentencing.

The young men told police the protest Tuesday was against the military draft and U.S. participation in the Viet Nam war.

Boss Has Strange 'Office' Hours

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Can a 62-year-old man be getting senile? I can't imagine why else my boss would be acting this way.

He asks me to work late when there is nothing for me to do that couldn't wait for tomorrow. Last evening he told me his wife is very cold and unsympathetic, and I was the prettiest woman he had ever known, and if he could get rid of her he would marry me. (I am a divorcee.)

When I came here I was warned that the boss fancied himself as a real lady-killer, but I didn't think he would be this bold. He is a grandfather, active in his church, and is very generous. How can I keep him at arm's length? This job is handy to my home, and the hours and pay are better than I could get elsewhere.

REAL PROBLEM
DEAR PROBLEM: When he asks you to work late, tell him you aren't able. And when he starts bending your ear about his domestic problems, cut him short and tell him you would rather not hear about his private life.

Keep your attitude 100 per cent professional. If he fires you, he fires you. Remember, a man can't get any chummier with you than you let him.

DEAR ABBY: I have read the etiquette books and I know the groom's mother is supposed to keep her mouth shut, but here is the situation. My son's bride-to-be is planning her wedding. She wants a 9 p. m. formal wedding. I know it is entirely proper in some places, but our town is not that metropolitan, and I have never heard of a 9 p. m. wedding here, even among the very elite, which we are certainly not.

Most of our relatives are in their 60's and 70's and they will not attend a reception which starts at 10 p. m. I am afraid our side of the family will have very few. It seems a shame. Shouldn't someone from our side talk to the bride's side in an effort to get her to reconsider?

Wadnola Lauded For Supervision Of Water Course

During February, March and April the Ulster County Department of Health scheduled a Water Treatment Plant Operators Course. Each Monday evening, 44 men from Ulster, Greene and Dutchess Counties, and one from New Jersey, attended a three-hour course on plant management. Thirty two of these men were proficient enough to earn certificates as Grade III Water Treatment Plant Operators.

The course was authorized by the New York State Department of Health and directed by Mr. Harry Edinger, director of Environmental Sanitation of the Ulster County Department of Health. Much of the credit however, goes to Edinger's assistant, Fred C. Wadnola as indicated by the following letter received recently from Albany:

Dear Mr. Edinger: We are completing the mailing of letters to operators who successfully completed the Grade III Water Plant Operators Course sponsored by the Ulster County Health Department during the months of February, March and April of this year.

Thanks for the time, effort and interest you and your staff have shown in the conduct of this course. I would appreciate your giving my personal thanks to Mr. Fred Wadnola who was primarily responsible for the planning and supervision of the sessions.

NEW YORK (AP) —People really do things about the weather. And what they do—and what they don't do—can send sales and profits of companies soaring and others tumbling.

Stock traders keep an eye on the weather stories with this in mind because sales and profits prospects of various industries and businesses affect today's stock prices. On the other hand, extremely hot weather also can cut down on attendance at stock brokers board rooms and reduce the urge to take a risk on a long shot.

Economic Effects Obvious

Some of the economic effects of the early July heat wave over much of the country are obvious. There's the rush to buy air conditioners, beer and soft drinks. There's the search for really cool summer vacation retreats. When lots of people are doing these things, lots of businesses are prospering.

The effects on retail trade, however, can show a mixed pattern: Sales of light clothing soar, but some traffic down store aisles is trimmed by the refusal of shoppers to budge from air-conditioned homes or

DEAR MOTHER: Yes. And the "someone" should be the groom.

DEAR ABBY: After reading the letter from "QUIET PLEASE," who complained about talkative hair-dressers, I had to write. May I inform that dear lady that the poor beauty operators are the ones who do most of the listening. I have been a beautician for over 20 years, and believe me, there have been times when I have wished I were deaf!

Strangely enough, the higher-class the shop, the more the clients talk about their sex lives (or the lack of it), fights with their husbands, problems with their children, and the petty gossip about their children, and the petty gossip about the neighbors.

The girl in the booth next to mine had to quit the profession because she developed an ulcer. Her doctor said it was from the frustration of having to listen to clients without being able to tell them to shut up. So please tell "QUIET PLEASE" that here is one operator who will welcome her with open arms. And if she'll be quiet, so will I.

MARY AT THE LOOKING GLASS

CONFIDENTIAL TO BEWILDERED IN BINGHAMPTON: No, it's not because a woman has grey hair, uses the wrong deodorant, is too fat or too thin that causes her husband to stray.

It's a man's weakness in the face of temptation. If a cheating man were married to a Venus de Milo, he'd look for a Cleopatra.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON, AP Business News Analyst

When the population flees to the beaches, auto repair men often have extra work from overheated cars that conk out in traffic jams. And a record business is done by the sellers of sunburn lotions.

Long stretches of fair weather, even if hot, help the sale—and eventually the production—of photographic equipment of all sorts.

Just Right for Power Firms

Manufacturing of paper cups can be affected by as much as five per cent by rising temperatures, especially if prolonged. Sales are tied closely to how hot the population gets.

The utilities, both electric and gas, and the oil industry count their sales and profits in terms of weather, both summer and winter. A cold winter means big sales of gas and oil for heating.

A July heat wave means a soaring use of electricity to run the air conditioners at home, at the office, in the factories. Fair, hot weather sends motorists out on the highway, buying gasoline, tires, and repair parts.

Over the longer range, the weather affects both farming and the many industries that supply it.

35 Adults Get Certificates in Basic Education

The first graduation and moving-up day exercise for the Kingston Adult Basic Continuing Education Classes was held recently at the John F. Kennedy School with 35 adults receiving diplomas and attendance certificates.

The Adult Basic Continuing Education Program is sponsored by the U. S. government through the Economic Opportunity Act, Title II-B. The programs are approved and supervised by the New York State Education Department, Division of Continuing Education and are administered locally by the adult education department.

Teaches Basic Skills

The major objective of programs of adult basic education operating under Title II-B of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 is to teach under-educated adults the basic skills of reading, writing and arithmetic, and further to develop an appreciation of the value of these skills in society. Through appropriate instructional activities, adults with less than an eighth grade reading competency will be provided an opportunity to develop these skills and appreciations to a level which will make them functionally literate and better participating citizens.

Four groups, starting in the middle of October, 1965, met twice a week for three hours each evening for a total of 200 hours of instruction. They were identified as Groups I, II, III and IV according to an original screening at the time of registration which determined the level of instruction. The grouping was flexible enough to allow certain students to move from one level to another when ready.

In addition to those in the picture the following received certificates of attendance:

Group I—Mrs. Louise Childs, Mrs. Myrtle Smart, Willis Barfield, Garfield Thomas, Melvin Eckert, Robert Lee Knox, Clarence Snow.

Group II—Mrs. Rena Barfield, Joseph Brown, Charles Howell, Lodean Howell, Walter Howell, Melvin Kithcart, Mrs. Kathleen Loftus, and Clarence Webster.

Group III—Mrs. Lina Baynard, Mrs. Florence Reed, Theodore Taylor.

Group IV—Mrs. Lillian Brodhead, Evan Davis, Mrs. Toni De Groat, Mrs. Frances Gilmore, Mrs. Catherine Hamilton, Mrs. Lora Harden, Mrs. Martha Kithcart, Mrs. Ola Mae Knox, Frank Loeffler, Mrs. Mildred Loeffler, Mrs. Endia Spencer, Mrs. Dorothy Roseberry, Mrs. Frances Ector, Mrs. Liane Carl, Mrs. Theora Ricks, and Mrs. Malinda Davis.

Staff of Six

The program was staffed by the following professional personnel: Donald E. Sweeney, coordinator; Jacob Nolfo, guidance counselor; Mrs. Evva Schussler, teacher of Group I; Mrs. Elaine Schwartz, teacher of Group II; Robert Corcoran, teacher of Group III; and Mrs. Anne J. Sweeney, teacher of Group IV.

The program included the invocation by the Rev. Nicholas M. Mosunic, assistant pastor, St. Mary's Church, Kingston. Evan J. Davis offered several selected readings followed by a welcome address by Donald E. Sweeney, coordinator of the program.

Raphael Klein, director Adult Education, presented the Faithful Attendance Certificates individually to the students of Groups I, II, and III. Mr. Klein encouraged all to continue with their education.

Arthur H. Withall, president, Board of Education, Kingston City Schools, Consolidated, presented the Eighth Grade Equivalency diplomas to the 16 participants. Withall's remarks in adult program and the necessity

Tock Island Council Now Eligible for Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Housing and Urban Development, reversing an earlier stand, now says the Tocks Island Regional Advisory Council is eligible for federal urban planning funds.

Rep. William B. Widnall, R-N.J., said Wednesday the council would receive an unspecified amount of planning funds.

He said Robert Weaver, secretary of Housing and Urban Development told him a review of the earlier decision indicated the Tocks Island area would reach the criterion for eligibility of 500 per square mile in 80 years.

The Regional Advisory Council is composed of representatives of six counties in the three-state region of the planned Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area: Monroe, Northampton and Pike in Pennsylvania; Orange, N.Y.; and Sussex and Warren, N.J.

Adult flies live about 30 days in the summer.

Fuel Receipts Total $160,509

For County Share

Ulster County's share in state motor fuel tax receipts for the three months ending June 30 is $160,509.50.

For the same period in 1965, county receipts were $153,022.51. A total of $6,948,303.38 was distributed in the 57 counties outside New York City.

State highway law provides that 10 per cent of the statewide collection of the state's gasoline tax and the tax on diesel motor fuel are allotted to counties on the proportional basis of county road and town highway mileage in each county. The money is earmarked by statute for deposit in county road funds.

The amount distributed last year was $6,613,741.67 for the same period.

Spur Second Thoughts

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Air Force general predicts continued U.S. air attacks will force the North Vietnamese to have second thoughts about continuing the war.

Lt. Gen. Joseph H. Moore, who was commander of the 7th Air Force, told a Pentagon news conference the 18-month bombing campaign "is beginning to have telling effect."

Moore, who spent 2½ years in Viet Nam and now is in Washington to brief top officials, said recent bombing strikes against oil storage depots near Hanoi and Haiphong have been the most dramatic recent developments in the air war.

Urges Deep Sea Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has urged the world's maritime nations to unite in a cooperative effort to probe the secrets of the deep sea — "our last frontier here on earth."

He placed specific emphasis in requesting the Soviet Union to join in the endeavor.

"Under no circumstances must we allow the prospects of rich harvest and mineral wealth to create a new form of colonial competition among the maritime nations," the President said at ceremonies in the Washington Navy Yard commissioning the Oceanographer, described as the world's most advanced ocean survey ship.

Passes Pollution Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved 90-0 a vast program for reducing and eliminating pollution of the nation's rivers, lakes and water supplies.

The bill, which now goes to the House, would authorize more than $6 billion in federal grants in the next six years to pay part of an estimated $20 billion supporters said would be

Migrant Worker Held

A migrant Marlboro farm worker was arrested Wednesday by Highland State Police on a charge of third degree assault. Trooper Jack Ostmark booked the defendant as Janie Ann Jones, 20, an employee on the Lyons farm, authorities said. Trooper Edward Henne said the woman was accused of hitting Margie Montgomery with a stick. She made the complaint. The case is pending before Justice of the Peace Michael Pagan, Town of Marlborough.

Havoc for Others

MONTREAL (AP) — A collision between a British freighter and a Canadian oil carrier Wednesday off the eastern tip of Montreal Island played havoc with small pleasure boats anchored at a nearby boating club.

After the big ships pulled apart, one swung into the crowded anchorage of the Fortaine Boating Club and crushed or sank six or seven of the hundreds of small boats there. No one was reported injured.

needed to attack the pollution problem.

The legislation follows President Johnson's proposal for cleaning up the nation's rivers by a basinwide approach. Under it, the federal government could meet up to 50 per cent of the costs of sewage disposal and treatment costs, with states supplying 30 per cent and local communities and industries the rest.

Ships Collide

MONTREAL (AP) — Emergency crews were at work today in attempts to separate the British freighter Gloxonia and the laker Frankliff Hall, which collided Wednesday in the St. Lawrence River.

The Department of Transport Signals Service said there were no injuries in the crash, which occurred off Longue Pointe at the eastern tip of Montreal Island.

The 20,000-ton Frankliff Hall and the 665-ton Gloxonia remained locked together after the collision during a sudden rain squall. Both ships were about to enter the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Brewery Firm Gave $10,000 to Dem Fund

Expect Inquiry Call by GOP On Dropping of Busch Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders are expected to call today for a congressional inquiry into the government's dismissal of an antitrust suit against the Anheuser-Busch Co. after officials of the brewing firm contributed $10,000 to a Democratic fund-raising organization.

A spokesman for the company said "the whole thing is preposterous."

Expect Goodell Call
It was understood that Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., would call for the inquiry in a House speech today.

The issue was first raised Wednesday by House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford. He told a news conference "disturbing rumors" were circulating that the Johnson administration may have dropped antitrust suits against companies whose executives contributed to the Democrats. Ford gave no names.

A check of government records showed that on May 24 the August A. Busch family and two company executives made contributions totaling $10,000 to the President's Club, composed of persons who contribute at least $1,000 to the Democrats.

On June 17, records showed, the Justice Department dropped a civil antitrust suit seeking to force the company to divest itself of a malting plant in Wisconsin it had acquired from the Rahr Malting Co. The suit was dismissed without prejudice — meaning it could be refilled later, officials said.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said the Justice Department had voluntarily consented to dismissal of two antitrust cases this year, including the one against Anheuser-Busch.

Paper Case Is Second
The second case, dismissed Wednesday, was a civil suit charging several paper producers with conspiring to hold down prices they paid for pulp wood. Katzenbach said. He added he authorized dismissal of the cases upon recommendation of Asst. Atty. Gen. Donald F. Turen.

Director Named For Extension Course in Area

Armen G. Fisher of New Brunswick, N. J., has been named assistant director of the Union College industrial administration program in Poughkeepsie.

Union President Harold C. Martin, who made the announcement, said that Fisher will assume the new post in September. Fisher has also been named an assistant professor for the industrial administration program based at Union's Schenectady campus.

The Poughkeepsie program may be undertaken by college graduates on either a full or part-time basis. It leads to a master of science degree in industrial administration. Purpose of the course is to prepare students for more effective performance in administrative positions and eventual advancement into general managerial positions.

A person with proper undergraduate preparation could earn the masters degree within two years. To do this he would have to take two courses in each of the three 10-week terms.

The program utilizes the facilities of the Dutchess Community College and is supported by Poughkeepsie industries and the Poughkeepsie Chapter of the Society for Advancement of Management. Professors teaching in the program receive joint appointments at Union and Vassar College.

ner, head of the antitrust division, and members of his staff. "Reviews of the cases after all evidence had been accumulated indicated that further prosecution was not warranted," Katzenbach said in a statement.

Records filed with the House show $2,000 contributions to the President's Club each from A.A. Busch Jr. and his wife, and $1,000 each from Mr. and Mrs. A.A. Busch III. In addition there were contributions of $1,000 each from the executive vice president, Richard A. Meyer and his wife, and Alfred Fleishman, who is in charge of the firm's public relations, and Fleishman's wife.

Long-Time LBJ Friend
In St. Louis, Fleishman said: "The whole thing is preposterous. Anybody who thinks he can buy the Justice Department for a political contribution is crazy."

He added that "the fact is August Busch is a 30-year friend of President Johnson's. He'd contribute to anything Lyndon Johnson was for."

Katzenbach said the case involving the paper producers was dismissed at Grand Rapids, Mich., after a court ruled that government evidence in a companion criminal case, based on the same facts, was insufficient.

Defendants in this case were listed as Scott Paper Co., Philadelphia; S.D. Warren Co., Boston; Abitibi Corp., Alpena, Mich.; Menasha Corp., Menasha, Wis.; American Excelsior Corp., Chicago, and Hammermill Paper Co., Erie, Pa.

"I have no idea whether executives of any of these companies contribute to the Democratic, Republican, or any other party," Katzenbach said.

Before the attorney general issued his statement, Robert H. Fleming, deputy White House press secretary, said in answer to question that "Ford himself says there are only rumors which he hasn't verified."

Note Vandalism By Negro Teens In Brooklyn Area

NEW YORK (AP) — Small groups of Negro teen-agers roamed the Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn Wednesday night and early today. Police said they broke seven store windows and there was some looting. Two youths were arrested.

Chief Police Inspector Sanford D. Garelik visited the area today after ordering 200 policemen due to get off at midnight kept on for an additional two hours.

The area was reported quiet shortly before dawn. Garelik said the roving bands usually consisted of two or three youths in the predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican low-income section.

Garelik said residents of the neighborhood sat on their doorsteps and watched the looting but did not join in it. No one was hurt, he said.

The incident came 24 hours after a bottle-throwing brawl among Negro teen-agers in the Coney Island section of Brooklyn following a dance. More than a dozen persons were injured and 17 were arrested after the fight, which police said did not have racial overtones.

Only American Motors sales were up in June! How come?

Meet a Mind-Changer.
(Like Rambler American)

Take the example of one vacation-blessed college student. "This summer I am going to scrimp and save until I can buy a big car with a big engine. A real performer." Then it happened. A buddy told him that Rambler Americans finished 1-2 in the Acceleration Test, Class VI, Pure Oil Performance Trials — with standard Sixes. Then he read about American's new 290-cube Typhoon V-8. "A lot of heavier cars don't have that much engine," he thought. And so they don't. Later he learned he could take his pick of 4-on-the-floor or automatic at no extra cost.

That, so equipped, Rambler American is the lowest-list-priced V-8 car built in America.* And that a long list of safety features, like Double-Safety brakes, were standard. But that was pure gravy. His mind was already changed. And that's the way it went all last month. We sold more new cars this June than last. In fact, sales hit an eight-month high. So before you buy a new car this month, meet the Mind-Changers: Rambler American, Rambler Classic, Ambassador, Marlin. With savings at a model-year high, they're changing a lot of minds these days.

Confirm Threat On Hoff's Life

MONTPELIER, Vt. (AP) — State Police confirm that a man on leave from a state institution threatened to kill Gov. Philip H. Hoff when the governor personally stopped a speeding automobile.
Troopers and Hoff's office said Wednesday that the threat was made Monday when Hoff stopped the car on Interstate 89.
They said the man—who was identified only as having been on leave from Vermont State Hospital—was arrested in Burlington later that night and returned to the mental institution.
The governor has ordered his trooper-chauffeur to give chase and make arrests before, and Hoff also has stopped motorists when he was driving alone in the state car.

Fear Columbia's Fruit Crop Hit By $500,000 Loss

Columbia County's fruit crop was heavily damaged by a storm last Sunday and estimates run as high as $500,000, according to County Agricultural Extension Agent M. Edgar Buckley.

Buckley said the exact amount of the loss had not been determined, because he had not completed a tour of all farms to gather information about damage.

It was noted that the areas hardest hit by the storm produce upwards of 350,000 of the county's annual 1.5 million bushel crop. Buckley said that actual damage ranged from 100 per cent to very little. He estimated the total damage may amount to 200,000 bushels.

Reports indicated that about 50 per cent of the county's sweet and sour cherry crop had been hit by the storm. Columbia County usually harvests about a million pounds of each crop.

The average American family consumes 433 pounds of vegetables each year.

New Law Encourages Area Mental Health Programs

A new law just signed by Governor Rockefeller will encourage expansion of community mental health programs through providing added state aid to localities, a measure supported by the State Department of Mental Hygiene.

Dr. Alan D. Miller, commissioner of mental hygiene, in announcing this earlier this week explained that the measure increases state aid from 50 to 75 per cent of the first $100,000 spent for community mental health board operations in counties with populations of less than 300,000. The state will continue to finance 50 per cent of the costs in excess of $100,000. Ulster County and 46 other counties are eligible to benefit by the measure.

Dr. Miller said the new law should spur increased mental health and retardation services in counties now served by community mental health boards and encourage establishment of these boards in the counties where none now exists.

All Are Upstate
Of New York State's 62 counties, 47 have populations under 200,000, all of them located upstate. Of these, including Ulster County, 40 are served by mental health boards, while seven are not. The five counties making up New York City, and served by one mental health board, on Long Island, exceed 200,000 population and are not covered by provisions of the new law.

Dr. Miller explained that the state's approach to the care of the mentally ill is shifting from state-operated to community-operated programs, carried out through the mental health boards. This allows for greater care and treatment of the mentally ill and retarded in their own localities.

In formulating the Comprehensive Plan for Mental Health and Mental Retardation, the State Planning Committee on Mental Disorders recommended an increase in State aid to localities for community mental health services. This fund boost, provided for in the new law, was fully endorsed by the Department of Mental Hygiene.

Problem in Rural Areas
One problem, Dr. Miller continued, has been that some predominantly rural areas have not developed mental health services because of lack of funds or problems of small populations distributed over large geographic areas.

"These added funds also should encourage counties already in the program to increase their services because they will receive the extra funds without any additional local cost," the commissioner said. "Further, it will enable the smaller counties to expand their administrative efforts in such directions as planning, evaluation and public relations, making for well-rounded programs in community mental health service.

In signing the bill into law, Governor Rockefeller said: "The Comprehensive Plan for Mental Health and Mental Retardation, which established as its major long-range goal complete treatment for all mental disorders on a local basis, envisions a system of community mental health and mental retardation centers closely related to local state hospitals and state schools. This bill implements one of the recommendations of the Comprehensive Plan by increasing state aid to encourage the formation of community mental health boards in our small communities."

Local Board Members
Members of the Ulster County Mental Health Board, who are appointed for a term of three years by the county board of supervisors are:

C. Robert Cousins, chairman; the Rev. Edward L. Farrelly; the Rev. David Guise, D.D.; Dr. Elbert MacFadden; Raymond Mino; Dr. Edward F. Shea; and Peter Williams.

Ex officio members are the County Health Commissioner, Dr. Vernon B. Link, and the County Public Welfare Commissioner Joseph Fitzsimmons.

Reports Useful Exchange During Airlines Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—Union and airline negotiators met briefly today then recessed until afternoon their efforts to reach an agreement to settle a seven-day strike against five major airlines.

They will return to joint session this afternoon after the union representatives have had a chance to consider new airline positions. No details of the new positions were disclosed.

Asst. Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds, directing the negotiations, said, "There has been a very useful exchange of views at this time."

Earlier, Reynolds had met with representatives of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists for about half an hour, presumably filling the union men in on the airline position as presented to him at a two-hour conference last night with representatives of the five lines—Northwest, Trans World, Eastern, National and United.

Reynolds Wednesday likened the union-management impasse to a jam which might be eliminated quickly merely by moving one or two key logs. He cautioned against hopes for any quick settlement, pointing out that there had been no change in the union's position since its statement of minimum demands one week ago.

Reynolds said the parties still are very far apart but he said "I don't think there is anything in the situation that cannot be resolved by the parties within hours if there is a real will to do it."

Reynolds said both sides are aware of their responsibility to the nation to settle the disagreements and restore air service.

The strike, estimated to be costing the airlines and labor some $8 million daily, is taking a heavy toll in the nation's great summer industry—the family vacation.

Resort spas across the nation reported many empty rooms and canceled reservations. Some hotels laid off workers.

The struck airlines began laying off workers in an attempt to hold down costs. Eastern Airlines furloughed 180 of its workers in New Orleans Wednesday and National Airlines laid off 194 workers.

More than 35,000 machinists walked off their jobs Friday after nearly year-long negotiations failed to produce an agreement. The strike has halted about 60 per cent of the nation's air travel.

The struck airlines agreed to bargain jointly with the union last August. Braniff, Continental and Northeast Airlines, with employees represented by the machinists, did not enter into the agreement and have not been struck.

Other nonstruck airlines have contracts with mechanics represented by the AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union.

The chief dispute is over a union demand for wage increases of about 35 cents hourly over 36 months. The company has indicated it is willing to offer slightly more than the 44-to-48 cents recommended by a presidential panel over the same period.

Everett Crosby, Brother of Bing, Victim of Cancer

SHARON, Conn. (AP) Everett Crosby, who managed the singing career of his brother Bing for many years, died Wednesday night at Sharon Hospital. He was 70.

He had been confined to a wheelchair since both legs were amputated in 1964 because of a circulatory ailment. Last year he was treated for cancer of the throat and it was hoped he had recovered.

Everett Crosby moved to this rural town in northwestern Connecticut four years ago and had been raising prize Morgan and Arabian horses.

Everett, the second of seven children of Harry L. and Catherine Crosby, served as an artillery sergeant in World War I after studying at Gonzaga University in Spokane, Wash.

He began managing his brother's career in 1928 when Bing came to Los Angeles looking for work as a singer.

"I figured I could sing better than he could," Everett said, "but I said, 'Listen, if you're going to live with me, you're going to work.'"

Everett also claimed as his discoveries such stars as Robert Raskoskie, Rod Cameron, Mary Healy and Keith Andes.

He was president of Everett Crosby Productions, Bing Crosby Enterprises, and secretary of the Crosby Investment Co.

He leaves his widow, Florence George Guthrie Crosby, a former singer; a daughter, Mrs. Charles D. Shannon Jr. of Seattle, Wash.; three grandchildren; four brothers—George, Hillsboro, Calif.; Larry, of Hollywood; Bob, of Hillsboro, Calif.; Ted, of Spokane, Wash.; and two sisters—Mrs. E. J. Deaths Increase 650 Above Normal During Heat Wave

NEW YORK (AP)—As the city sweltered in the worst July heat wave in its history, deaths in the week ended last Friday 2,230-650 above normal for the period—the Health Department reports.

During the past 40 years that toll is topped only by the 2,677 deaths recorded in the week that ended Sept. 3, 1948.

Only 17 Last Week
Only 17 of last week's deaths were directly attributed to heat stroke, a Health Department official said Wednesday.

The Weather Bureau predicted some easing of the heat today.

The temperature reached 101 degrees at 3:55 p.m. Wednesday, setting a record for the date. The previous record for July 13 was 96 degrees in 1954. Wednesday was the fourth time in a little more than two weeks that the temperature went above 100.

The Health Department said about 600 of last week's dead were more than 65 years old.

It said the toll of 2,250-40 per cent above normal for the week—would have been "very much higher" if there had not been widespread use of air-conditioning.

4 Above Normal

So far this month the average maximum of 94 degrees is almost four degrees above the hottest July on record here—in 1955.

Since June 21, there have been only five days on which the mercury did not reach 90. With eight consecutive 90-degree days, the city's heat wave is within two days of equalling the 10 consecutive days of August 1896.

In suburban Westchester County, nearly 6,000 customers were without electricity for almost three hours Wednesday afternoon because of a breakdown of electrical equipment in Harrison.

Left without electricity for air conditioning and fans were parts of Rye, Harrison, Larchmont, Mamaroneck Town and Mamaroneck Village.

Work Stoppage Reported in Two Gotham Hospitals

NEW YORK (AP)—Work stoppage by nonmedical employees demanding more pay spread today from Montefiore Hospital in the Bronx to Mt. Sinai Hospital in Manhattan.

About 300 of the employees appeared outside Mt. Sinai Hospital but refused to report for work this morning.

Dr. David Pomrinse, associate director of the hospital, said that if the stoppage continued a transfer of patients to other hospitals would start later in the morning.

"We have 1,500 sick people here," he said. "We've called on volunteers but we'll have to start transfers if this keeps up."

Montefiore Hospital, expecting an all-day stoppage today, evacuated about 150 of its 629 patients Wednesday.

Montefiore normally has a total of 1,300 nonmedical employees in a 24-hour period, and about 600 are on the day shift.

Local 1199 of the AFL-CIO Drug and Hospital Workers Union—said Wednesday they would not work today at Montefiore, Mt. Sinai and three other voluntary hospitals.

The three others are Beth Israel Hospital in Manhattan, Jewish Hospital of Brooklyn and Long Island Jewish Hospital in Queens.

SNOOZE ALARM—If a study confirms the theory that the number of times a driver adjusts a steering wheel is related to his alertness, tomorrow's cars may be equipped with yet another safety gadget—a "snooze alarm" that automatically alerts a driver dozing off or straying from the proper lane. Engineer Lee Summer at TRW Systems in Redondo Beach, Calif., where development is under way, briefs Patty Katznelson on the device mounted on the steering column to measure the number of times the driver moves the wheel. When frequency declines, the alarm sounds.

Care With Eye Make-Up

Eye make-up does wonders for facial expression. Too much make-up, though, can make a woman look bizarre. When in doubt, it is always better to use too little eye make-up rather than too much. Daytime requires less eye make-up than evening.

Newcombe Backs Pay Hike Need For Legislators

State Senator Lloyd A. Newcombe representing the 43rd Senatorial District which is comprised of Ulster, Greene, Sullivan and part of Orange Counties was asked to comment on the pay increase which the legislators voted themselves at the end of the recent marathon session. Senator Newcombe said, "It has been many years since members of the Legislature have had any increase in pay, while the time and effort they give to their office continues to increase. Not only is the work of the Legislature involved but also, there are many who serve on joint Legislative Committees; I, myself, serve on two of these committees and they do demand time. In addition, there are always public and social obligations to be met, as well as campaign duties." The Senator further said, "I feel that the basic justification for the pay increase is to attract and keep able people in the Legislature; certainly, the pre-mature retirement of so many able men this year would seem to bear this out. As to the 'lulus' or expense allowances, they are not a tax-free gift to be squandered away but, are fully taxable and therefore, fully accountable."

Charge Marlboro Man of Throwing Lye at Workers

Charged with throwing a mixture of lye and another liquid at two Marlboro farm workers causing burns to both of them, M. C. Montgomery, 39, Marlboro, was arrested by Highland State Police on a charge of second degree assault.

According to Trooper Edward Henne, Montgomery was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Michael Pagano, Town of Marlboro. He was permitted to plead to a reduced charge of third degree assault.

Montgomery was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail. The arrest was made by Sergeant Edward Whalen.

Trooper Henne said Montgomery was accused of throwing the liquid at Janie Jones, 22, and Willie Ford, 26, Marlboro farm workers. They were both treated at St. Luke's Hospital for burns of the arms and body.

The incident occurred on Sunday in a building on the Lyons farm, Town of Marlboro, authorities said.

Fort Belvoir, Va., houses the U.S. Army Engineer Center.

Two Paltz Youths Hurt in Collision

Two New Paltz youths were injured shortly after 3:30 p.m. Wednesday when the car in which they were riding was involved in a collision on Route 209 about one and 8/10ths miles north of Accord.

Ellenville State Police reported the cars were driven by Hilton Thorn, 38, Clintondale, and Gary Decker, 20, New Paltz.

Injured and taken to Kingston Hospital were Decker, who suffered lacerations of the face and right arm and a passenger in his car, Francis Lehmann, 18, also of New Paltz, who sustained severe lacerations of the right leg and a fractured right femur. The hospital reported Lehmann's condition as satisfactory.

Sergeant F. C. Thompson said Thorn was driving north on the highway and Decker was making a left turn to enter a private driveway when the crash occurred. Sergeant Thompson said police action is pending.

RETIREES AT AGE 90—William Thomas Grant, affectionately known as "W.T." to generations of Grant Company people, announced his retirement as chairman of the board of the giant retail store company which carries his name. The announcement was made on the occasion of his 90th birthday on June 27. At age 30, he opened the first W. T. Grant store in Lynn, Mass., with his $1,000 life savings. Now numbering 1,097 stores and still growing lustily, his company sales last year were well in excess of $800,000,000. Edward Staley, who was vice-chairman, succeeds Grant as chairman.

Baptist Church Lists Activities Of Coming Week

Monday, at 6 p. m., a "Chicken Barbecue" will be held on the church lawn, sponsored by the Christian Service Brigade Committee for all the men of the church and their wives who helped on the construction of the Brigade Frontier Camp. Rosendale Puts Ban on Water

Because of the continued dry spell and lack of rain, Water Commissioner Eugene Mulligan of Rosendale, today placed an emergency ban on the use of water in that community. The water use restriction is effective immediately and authorities said the ban will be strictly enforced. Mulligan said the use of water for gardens and washing cars is prohibited during the emergency, and the ban also prohibits the use of water to fill swimming pools. It was reported that water is being pumped from the emergency supply in the cave off Main Street in the village of Rosendale to the still pond on John Street. Excessive use of water for gardens, car washing and swimming pools, made it necessary to invoke the emergency ban, it was reported. A village spokesman said the last rain of any extent was recorded on June 10.

See Fewer Votes For Red China Seating in U. N.

By WILLIAM N. OATIS, UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Despite all the talk about inviting Communist China into the United Nations, the General Assembly is unlikely to do that this fall and may give it even fewer votes than last year. Various U.S. scholars favor Red China's admission, but not enough U.N. members are for it to make it come to pass. Delegates estimate that in next fall's General Assembly a resolution to oust the Chinese Nationalists and seat the Chinese Communists will get several fewer votes than it did in last fall's assembly. That last resolution failed Nov. 17 on a 47-47 tie vote, with 20 nations abstaining. That was not so close as it looks because the assembly had decided it would take a two-thirds vote — not just a simple majority — to change China's in the United Nations. Nine of the 11 countries that put the question before the last assembly already are talking about how to handle it in the next one starting Sept. 20. Algeria and Cambodia have drawn up a memorandum setting forth their case. A U.S. delegate makes the same guess, though he adds that it is really too early to tell. Ambassador Hsueh Yu-chi of Nationalist China told a reporter: "There will be six or seven more votes against the admission of the Chinese Communists."

Fund Chairman Is Named for Scout Council Campaign

The appointment of Edward Levine of Kingston as campaign chairman of the 1966 fund drive is announced by Mrs. Randolph Siegel, president of Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts. The annual fund raising drive will be conducted in the townships outside of the Community Chest area, Sept. 26 through Oct. 15 with advance gifts division starting Sept. 19. The goal for this year's drive is $6,650. Levine in accepting the appointment stressed the importance of Girl Scouting throughout the county and the program services to towns outside of the Community Chest areas, also the vital need for cooperation of those areas in the annual fund raising campaign. "We are fortunate in having a service center as well equipped and up-to-date in Kingston also a beautiful Camp Wendy in Wallkill, serving all Girl Scouts in Ulster County. At present there are 3,524 registered Scouts in Ulster County as compared to 2,407 five years ago."

EDWARD LEVINE
The council provides organized troops, trained leaders, troop meeting places, resources, aids and counsel on troop activities, camping opportunities, qualified adult personnel, opportunities to participate in national and international events, recruitment, financing and office services, workshops and membership opportunities to all girls who want to be Scouts. Part of the Council's operation expenses come from Community Chest allocations. Necessary additional funds are raised in the separate annual drive the Girl Scout Council conducts in areas it serves outside of Community Chest areas. These include the towns of Woodstock, West Hurley, Onteora, Ellenville, Kerhonkson, Highland, Marlboro and Wallkill. "We are chartered by the Girl Scouts of the U. S. A. dedicated to the purpose of inspiring girls 7 to 17 with the highest ideals of character, conduct, patriotism and service," Levine said, "continued support and understanding is needed if we are to maintain the program that is dedicated to helping our youth grow

Freeman in India
NEW DELHI (AP) — U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman arrived here today with a discouraging word for India, which has relied heavily on the American farmer for years. Freeman, on the final leg of a three-week Asian tour, told newsmen the United States wants to help India's agricultural development but added: "The United States no longer has the huge wheat surplus it had when it started shipping grain to India 15 years ago, and henceforth must use 'great care' with what he called its limited resources. into responsible citizens and leaders of tomorrow." Levine, a native of Poughkeepsie and World War II Air Force veteran, is now associated with Triple S Blue Stamp Company as area manager. He resides in Kingston with his wife Eileen, who is a registered nurse, and their four children.

Ask Closed Door Session in Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — A battle over the Central Intelligence Agency may force the Senate into a dramatic — and rare — locked-door session today as a guard against heated debate damaging the spy agency or the nation. As a precaution, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and his Republican counterpart, Everett M. Dirksen, are considering barring public and press from the debate over revamping Senate supervision of the CIA. Mansfield said in an interview that in the heat of battle "things might be said that aren't particularly true and could be harmful. Rumor and hearsay can be damaging." Mansfield said the decision on whether to clear the galleries won't be made until before the debate opens. The last such executive session was April 11, 1963, when the Senate discussed funds for an antiballistic missile system, and it was the first since World War II. The issue today: The Senate Foreign Relations Committee's attempt, through a resolution, to add three of its members to the present Senate CIA subcommittee charged with supervision of the big intelligence agency. The resolution is strongly opposed by the exclusive seven-member CIA panel — made up of senior members of Armed Services and Appropriations committees — and headed by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga. Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, has called the move an attempt to muscle in on his group.

England's Interest Up
LONDON (AP) — The Bank of England's interest rate was raised one per cent—from 6 to 7 per cent today—to make money tighter at home and prop up the sagging pound. The increase in the rate, which sets the pattern for interest rates throughout the sterling bloc, was part of Prime Minister Harold Wilson's campaign to check inflation and inspire confidence abroad in the pound. Official sources reported the Labor government is also considering a still lower ceiling on its wage guideline increase but has ruled out a wage and price freeze for the present. Emergency measures were under review as the nation appeared heading into a new economic crisis of stagnant production, rising wages and pressure on the pound. The increase in the bank rate had been generally expected. The University of Sorbonne in France was founded in 1253.

Mischievous Is Charged

Accused of kicking in a kitchen door of a Highland residence, William Lynch, 19, of that community, was arrested Wednesday by Trooper Stanley Roberts on a charge of malicious mischief. Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Lewis DiStasi, Town of Lloyd, the youth pleaded guilty and was fined $20. He also was ordered to make restitution for damage to the door. The complaint was made by Jennie Wood of Highland.

Hit By Passing Car

While walking along the shoulder of Granite Road about a mile north of Route 44-55, Town of Rochester, at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday, Nathaniel Rawiszer, 47, of 123 South Highland Street, Ossining, was hit by a passing car. State Police Sergeant F. C. Thompson of the Ellenville substation said Vincent Dugan, 26, Kerhonkson, was driving east on the highway when his car hit the pedestrian. Rawiszer complained of pains of the hip and left leg. He was not hospitalized.

Says AG Called For Vegas 'Bug' On Baker Aide

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department says FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, acting on general authority from the attorney general in 1963, directed agents to "bug" a Las Vegas, Nev., hotel suite.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., was attorney general at the time the agents eavesdropped on the room of Fred B. Black Jr., a former associate of Bobby Baker. But the department declined to make clear whether Kennedy personally was involved.

Asked later for clarification, a department spokesman indicated that the FBI had acted under authority delegated by one of Kennedy's predecessors. "The practice in question which existed for a period of years preceded 1961," the spokesman said.

Kennedy, who served as attorney general from Jan. 21, 1961, to Sept. 3, 1964, was not available for comment. An aide said, however, that the senator "has nothing to say beyond what Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall said in his original memorandum filed in the Black case, which was that Atty. Gen. Kennedy had not been aware of the existence or use of these devices."

Kennedy's predecessor was Republican William P. Rogers, who served in the Eisenhower administration from Nov. 8, 1957, to January 1961.

In his unprecedented memorandum May 24, Marshall volunteered the information that the FBI had eavesdropped on Black but for reasons unrelated to Black's then-pending appeal on an income tax conviction.

Black, a Washington public relations man, was convicted in 1964 on the tax charges and twice has asked the Supreme Court to review his conviction. The court denied his first request May 2.

Farmer Is Killed

WATERTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Farmer Dewey Bickford, 68, was killed today when the tailgate of a pickup truck fell, striking him on the head, as he herded cattle into the truck. Bickford's home was on the Watertown-Copenhagen Road.

The American Numismatic Society was founded in 1858.

Accused of Firing Gun

Henry Rethier, 61, of Lake Katrine, was arrested on a charge of violating the Public Safety Law on Wednesday. He was accused of discharging a shotgun in the open. The man pleaded innocent before Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Reilly, Town of Ulster. He was released pending a hearing on Tuesday, July 26. The arrest was made by Trooper Thomas Searles of the Kingston substation of State Police.

Two Drivers Fined

Two drivers charged with speeding were fined in city court today. Timothy Farrell, 18, of 177 Salem Street, Port Ewen, paid $25, and K. R. Breitenstein, 23, of 61 Grant Street, paid $10.

Resigns From Post At American Exchange

NEW YORK (AP)—Edwin D. Etherington has submitted his resignation as president of the American Stock Exchange to become the new president of Wesleyan University in Middletown, Conn.

"The field of education has always been a central interest of mine," Etherington said. "And I guess that interest has never really strayed too far."

Etherington, 41, said that, to leave the stock exchange post to become president of his alma mater, he will have to take a cut in pay from the $100,000-a-year he now gets.

Etherington asked the Exchange board of directors yesterday to accept his resignation, effective next February.

Report Car Fire

A fire, believed to have started from sun on a glass paperweight, damaged a car Wednesday afternoon and another, apparently set, damaged a fence section on the railroad side of the Kingston Coal & Oil Co. property, Thomas Street. A front seat area, floor mat and seat belt of a car owned by Marie Coughlin of 22 Grand Street, were damaged while it was near the County Infirmary. Firemen from Central Station answered a call at 2:13 p. m. with Deputy Chief Julius E. Buchholt in charge. A call at 5:45 p. m. for the other fire was followed by an alarm from Box 1121, Broadway and Cedar Street. Units from Central and Wiltwyck Stations, the Wicks and Excelsior Companies responded with Capt. Robert W. Hardwick in charge.

Start Talented Art Program In Area Craftsmen's Studios

Dr. Raymond G. Kenyon, regional director, and J. Terry Carlisle, assistant, supplementary educational center, have announced that the Talented Art Program approved by the U. S. Office of Education and funded on June 15, has been initiated in the Woodstock area.

Objectives of this program are to identify students in the region at any grade level who are talented in the crafts, to develop with teachers and gifted craftsmen "an awareness" for identifying and motivating the craft-talented student and to further individualize the program for talented students in the crafts providing them the opportunity of working with gifted regional craftsmen.

Since the monies were negotiated with the Federal Government on June 15, Dr. Kenyon announces that many gifted craftsmen from the Mid-Hudson Region were interviewed for the July workshop and the August workshop to be held in the region. Four such craftsmen are presently carrying on workshops during the month of July in their own studios.

Mrs. Iona (Plath) Alan, nationally-known weaver and author of several books on weaving, has been assigned to the program; Donald Jennings, ceramicist and continued prize winner at jury shows is another. Also in the program is Paul deLaura, a sculptor who has entered various jury shows and has many awards for his sculpture in wood and other mixed media. Miss Doris Robbins, who has had many years of experience with the craft of leather and has had several traveling shows, (one through Europe) is also contributing her services.

Bulletins Sent

All public and nonpublic schools were sent an educational bulletin containing an overview of the Title III Regional Program for Talented Art Students along with inquiry forms to assess students who might be possible candidates for this most unusual program. These credentials were weighed, evaluated, and appraised and the students assigned to one of the four current workshops. Transportation to the workshops in the four counties was arranged. Materials were ordered and secured in New York City for the Summer Program and delivered to each craftsman's studio.

The following students were then telephoned individually to confirm their desire to be in the program: Ceramics: New Paltz Central School—Robert Browne, Glen Weston; Saugerties Central School—Stephen Raimondi; Red Hook Central School—Sebastian Eggert, David Oja; Onteora Central School—Linda Jensen, David Lee, Christopher Villa; New Paltz Campus School—Daniel Wexler; and St. Ursula Academy—Jane Polito, Irene Hornung.

Leather: Onteora Central School—Tracy Smith, Gregory Dodge, Barbara Breakell; New Paltz Central School—Peter Fairweather, Thomas Stammeyer, Patrick Ruiz; New Paltz Campus School—Ann Tantillo; Saugerties Central School—Robert Gallenz.

Sculpture: New Paltz Central School—Henry Biscardi; Kingston City Schools, Cons.—Althea Stahl; St. Ursula Academy—Joan Caprotti, Roberta MacDonald; Hyde Park Central School—Gary Burt, Cynthia Nagasaki, Sherrie Nelson, Jean Hite; New Paltz Campus School—Austin Shelton; Wallkill Central School—Donald Dubois. Weaving: Onteora Central School—Michelle Breakell, Hark Caulfield, Michelle Squao, Shirley Bachor, Daniel Hammers, Anne-Marie Johanson, Karen Johanson; Hyde Park Central School—Rhonda Fielden; New Paltz Campus School—Donna Tantillo.

Musicians appearing in concert will be Jascha Brodsky, violin; Geoffrey Michaels, violin; Max Aronoff, viola and Orlando Cole, cello. Assisting the quartet in the Mozart Quintet in C Minor will be violist Frank Mele.

Brodsky, first violinist, joined the group several years ago after a number of tours throughout Europe. Michaels has studied under Eferm Zimbalist and originally hails from Australia.

Aronoff, the founder-director of the New School of Music has trained outstanding American violists. Cole has appeared in recital, with orchestras and on radio and television in the United States as a solo artist.

Selections will include Haydn's Quartet in D No. 4; a movement from the quartet in C Minor by Schubert and Wolf's Italian Serenade.

Machine vs Machine

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — Sheriff Rudy Gonzales shot down a one-armed bandit recently with his submachine gun. County commissioners ordered the sheriff to destroy a confiscated nickel slot machine, so Gonzales used it as the target for his machine gun practice.

The Honda, one of many prizes sponsored by the Woodstock Library Fair, will be on display in the bank window from July 23 to Fair time, Thursday, July 28. The Fair will start at 11 a. m. with the usual array of bargains, homemade foods, a display of Art on the Fence, bagpipers, auctions and unique Woodstock features. Opponents Vow New Attempt on Slash of Aid

By WILBUR MARTIN WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's $3.3-billion multiyear foreign aid authorization bill has sailed through its first House test but opponents vowed to try again today to slash both time and money from the measure.

The House voted down 122 to 86 Wednesday night an amendment to cut the two-year authorization to a single year. Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Calif., author of the rejected amendment, later declared: "I'm sure somebody else will try again today. If they don't," he added, "I just might."

A final vote is expected late today. Voting on amendments started Wednesday after two days of debate.

Opponents of the two-year measure argued that a constant review is needed of the aid program in light of changing, critical world times.

Supporters backed the administration's contention that the longer period is needed for confidence to underdeveloped nations.

The nine-section measure would authorize funds for development loans, technical assistance, housing, international organizations, supporting assistance and other economic and military projects.

The Alliance for Progress program and the Development Loan Fund carry five-year authorizations, as in the past. This is the first time, however, approval has been sought for other programs for more than a single year.

Will Form Three Upstate Districts To Fight Jobless

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three federal development districts will be formed in upstate New York to combat what the Economic Development Administration calls persistent and substantial unemployment.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., announced Wednesday that the federal agency had approved formation of the districts, two in the North Country and one in the Mohawk Valley.

Areas in the districts with high levels of unemployment will be eligible for grants and loans for public works projects. Other areas will be eligible for planning funds and technical assistance.

The districts: St. Lawrence Area—Franklin, Jefferson, Lewis and St. Lawrence counties.

State Solons Named To House Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Rep. Robert C. McEwen and Democratic Rep. Richard D. McCarthy, both of New York State, have been named to a House special subcommittee on economic development.

McEwen, of Ogdensburg and McCarthy, of Buffalo, were appointed Wednesday to the House Public Works subcommittee.

The 12-man group will review administration of the 1965 Public Works and Economic Development Act and other related programs.

The St. Lawrence and Lake Champlain districts also will be assisted by the newly formed North Country Economic and Development Council, Kennedy said.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Folks:

The battle and mystery of the gummy wooden salad bowls has been solved!

Imagine, after all these years! And guess how? Our favorite friends—the pecan and walnut. Lucile Saltwick wrote and said she had a wooden salad bowl that had become white in side. She took a piece of raw walnut meat and rubbed in all over the bowl, and it took all the white goop off.

I used pecans when I tested this hint, and they did a beautiful job... on both bleached wood and dark-stained salad bowls. Just crack the nut and remove the meat. Break the meat in half and use the broken side to rub away.

This also helps remove scratches. I learned, too, that those of you who have beautiful wood-paneled walls with scratches on them, can use this same idea. Just wipe with soft cloth after rubbing with the nut meat, and that's all there is to it.

Now back to those salad bowls:

Don't forget that it is the oil and vinegar dressing which causes this goop. So if you make your salad ahead of time, leave the dressing until just before serving.

Empty the wooden bowl right after the meal and wash it. This will prevent the white, sticky stuff from forming.

Dear Heloise: After I wash and dry my nylon hose, I put on white gloves to sort them.

The gloves make it easy for me to see the hose that have runners and also protects them from snags while sorting.

Dear Heloise: One of the easiest ways to keep paint off the light fixtures when repainting a room is to tie or tape paper or plastic bags over each fixture.

While the bag is over the light, turn the light OFF so the bag won't get hot.

This is easier than removing the fixture or cleaning it later.

Dear Heloise: When using my sewing machine to sew on buttons, I found it difficult to slide the button under the presser foot without getting it out of place.

I now save time by putting each button in place with a piece of transparent plastic tape, sew through the tape, and in a matter of minutes, all the buttons are on in the right places.

Enlarged button holes can be repaired by ironing a piece of press-on tape on the back of the material and slitting the tape with a razor blade to correct size.

Dear Heloise: I use the one-half pound margarine tubs for ice cream sundae.

I make several at a time and put them in the freezer after marking the flavor on top of the containers.

Very Yeager

Dear Heloise: Most people discard the long, narrow thin plastic bags that contain plastic foam cups for picnics.

One of the best uses I have found for them is to hold the used silverware in from your picnic (after you have used the cups.)

This keeps your picnic basket clean.

Mrs. Ralph V. Green

I read the wonderful idea the whistles for children who might become lost.

We're a camping family, and I'm going to buy each of us a whistle, and come up with a special signal.

My own children will know when they're being called, or can call back to us.

I shall always see that each child has a whistle in his pocket or tied to his belt.

Elmira Area Man Faces Murder 2nd In Woman's Death

ELMIRA, N.Y. (AP)—A 22-year-old married man who told police he wrestled with the mother of three, blacked out and then awoke to find her dead, faces a charge of second-degree murder in her stabbing.

Jack D. Lewis of suburban Elmira Heights was arrested Wednesday and charged with the slaying of Mrs. Clara Simerson, 27, of Elmira, who reportedly was separated from her husband, police said.

Police refused to comment on the details of the arrest or a motive for the slaying.

Lewis was arraigned before Judge John Frawley of Recorder's Court, who did not set bail, but ordered Lewis to be sent to city jail.

Mrs. Simerson's body was found June 19 in her apartment. A medical examiner said she died of multiple puncture wounds.

Police Chief John J. O'Connor said he was convinced that a knife, found two days later in the vicinity, was "used in the slaying."

Mrs. Simerson had been seen leaving a restaurant about 45 minutes before her body was discovered.

Detective Captain Richard J. Connolly said Lewis told him he and Mrs. Simerson had wrestled in her apartment before he blacked out. Connolly said Lewis claimed he recovered 10 minutes later, saw Mrs. Simerson's nude, bloody body on the floor, "knew she was dead" and fled.

He took a taxi to a restaurant in Elmira Heights, Connolly said Lewis told him.

Mrs. Simerson lived at 308 Lormore St. Lewis' address is 253 W. 11th St.

Republicans Make Major Election Bids in South

By SANDERS CARTER

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Republicans in the South are making major bids for office this summer — including some governorships which have been democratic strongholds for as long as a century.

Most are convinced that voters will rally to conservative appeals, and party leaders in some states talk confidently of forging enduring two-party systems.

Run for Governor

Republicans are planning governor's races in at least five states. They say their candidates will seek seven seats in the U.S. Senate, at least 45 in the House of Representatives and an undetermined number of lesser state and local offices.

The resentment of administration policies which permitted Barry Goldwater to sweep five Deep South states in 1964 still is strong, but some candidates are careful not to align themselves too closely with their 1964 presidential nominee.

One reason: Vast numbers of newly registered Negro voters haven't forgotten that Goldwater voted in the Senate against the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

"This is not a Goldwater year," says Claude Kirk, a wealthy investment banker from Jacksonville who is seeking the governorship in Florida.

Most party leaders are trying to soft-pedal racial questions—"race will not be an issue," the Republican chairman in Mississippi states flatly — and some are soliciting Negro votes openly.

Expect Negro Vote

"We think a great number of Negroes will vote Republican," says National Committeeman L. Lee Potter of Virginia, where Negroes comprise 20 per cent of registered voters.

"It will be hard to pry them away from people who promise them a moon they can't deliver," he says. "But we feel they will be intelligent enough to know they are being hoodwinked."

In Georgia, Republicans have elected a Negro as parliamentarian of the state party in hopes of recapturing Negro support which could provide the margin of victory in some races.

The Republican spokesmen are united almost completely in their criticism of the Johnson administration. For the most part, they are shunting civil rights talk to the background and hitting the President hardest on the war in Viet Nam and the rising cost of living.

Campaigns in South Carolina will be based in part on "reducing federal takeovers of state, county and city government functions," says party chairman Harry S. Dent.

And in Mississippi, the state chairman declares, "We are the only responsible, effective opposition to the 'Great Society'."

Limit Tanning Time

Time for the summer warning: Limit tanning time to 20 minutes the first day, 40 minutes the second and a hour the third day to avoid severe sunburn. Use suntan lotions constantly and the ones dermatologists recommend have silicon to screen out harmful sun's rays.

Wolff Convention Is Untested

By JACOB Y. SON

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Take a peek at today's bidding. It looks as if North and South have suddenly gone crazy. Where did South find his three-club bid? Why did North stop the bidding at three spades instead of heading for the stratosphere?

There must be some method in this madness because South becomes a signoff and opener is required to pass.

We have not studied the Wolff convention enough to be able either to approve it or to disapprove it. The opportunity for its use arises so infrequently that it will be some time before we have enough evidence to reach a decision about it.

We do know that it is for use with a regular partner. It is so complicated that if you and your partner aren't completely familiar with all its ramifications you should leave it strictly alone.

In any event if you do try it out please write and tell us your results.

AP Readers Survey Provides Some Answers About Taxes

EDITOR'S NOTE — The Associated Press has just completed a survey in which average newspaper readers across the country were asked what interested or troubled them most about the world today. A series of readers' questions were taken from the survey. This article about taxes is one of several in response to those questions.

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
WASHINGTON (AP) — A reader asks: "Is there a limit to over-all taxes? Has it ever been tested in court?"

It may come as a surprise, but there's no constitutional limit to the amount of taxes the government can levy.

Many tax questions have been tested in court — in fact, the federal government has its own tax court — but tax rates, themselves, aren't subject to litigation.

Claims No Limit

One Treasury Department expert said there's no constitutional limit to how high taxes can go so long as they're non-discriminatory.

The best way to measure the government tax take is in relation to gross national product. That's the value of all goods and services produced.

Today, Treasury experts say, the total tax take — federal, state and local — amounts to about 28 per cent of gross national product.

Many free-world nations have a higher take. In 1962 citizens of West Germany, France and Sweden were taxed at 35 per cent of their gross national product while in the Netherlands the figure was 32 per cent. United Kingdom, Italy and Austria 30 per cent, and Luxembourg 31.

More Diverted Today

Strange as it might seem, a higher percentage of the nation's wealth is diverted to taxes today than during World War II, when the total take was 25 per cent of gross national product, and the Korean War, when the take was 26 per cent.

MORE

One reason, a Treasury source said, is the higher share of gross national product now taken by state and local governments. But the federal tax level is still greater than the other two combined.

Of the 28 per cent of gross national product now going toward taxes, the federal share runs somewhere around 19 per cent, and most of that is raised through personal and corporate income taxes.

It wasn't always that way. A tax study by the Senate-Economic Committee noted that customs collections — which now account for only 1 per cent of total federal tax revenues — exceeded all other federal taxes combined during most of the years between the founding of the republic and World War I.

First Tax in 1863

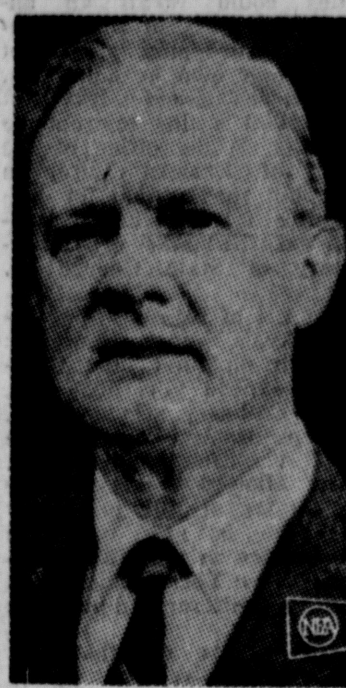

The first income tax was levied during the Civil War and raised $376 million between 1863 and 1873 when it expired. A second income tax was adopted in 1894 but was declared unconstitutional the following year after raising only $77,000.

The modern income tax — initiated with the 16th Amendment to the Constitution — began with a maximum individual rate of 7 per cent in 1913-15, increased to a maximum of 77 per cent by 1918 because of World War I.

By 1917, individual and corporate income tax collections had surpassed customs revenues and by 1920 accounted for about two-thirds of total federal tax revenues — about today's percentage.

The high-water mark for individual income tax rates came in 1944-45, near the close of World War II, when they ranged from 23 to 94 per cent.

After the Korean war individual income tax rates ranged from 20 to 91 per cent and were reduced in 1964 first to a 16-77 per cent range and this year to the 14-70 per cent range.

Merle Oberon Keeps Fit in Try To Look Younger

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Recently a Hollywood matron encountered Merle Oberon at a party and exclaimed, "Good Lord, you can't go on looking young forever!"

"Of course not," replied the actress, "but why not try?"

Native of Tasmania

She was born Estelle Merle O'Brien Thompson in Tasmania, but don't ask how many years ago. Suffice to say that her first notable film was "The Private Life of Henry VIII" with Charles Laughton, and that was 34 years ago.

After the lapse of a dozen years, Miss Oberon is back playing a Hollywood role in the multistar "Hotel"; she enacts a duchess to Michael Rennie's duke. Her youthfulness naturally comes up in an interview, and it is a subject she doesn't tire of hearing about.

"Of course people mention it a great deal," she smiled, "but what woman wouldn't be pleased?"

"Remaining as young-looking as possible is good for everyone — as long as they don't let it become a phobia. It has never been that with me. If I grow old, I grow old. Meanwhile I owe it to myself, to God, and to those who to look at me, to maintain the best appearance I can."

Swims Daily

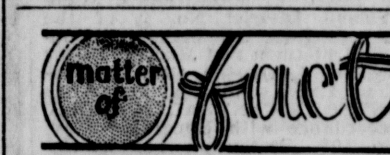

"Exercise. I swim every day of the year and do exercises in the water too. I have swimming pools at all my homes — here, in Acapulco, Mexico City and Cuernavaca.

"I eat sparingly but wisely. For lunch I will have a steak and fresh vegetables. If I go to a large dinner, I will eat a little bit of everything."

Admittedly, Miss Oberon leads the kind of life that most women would envy. Her husband is the Italian-born Mexican industrialist Bruno Pagliai, and they travel between their four houses, as well as to New York and Europe. They have two children, 6 and 7.

Rosendale Stop Sign

A stop sign has been ordered in Rosendale on the westerly end of a connecting road between Routes 32 and 213. The sign was ordered by William S. Hults, chairman of the State Traffic Commission.

The first helicopter flew not long after the Wright brothers made their first flight in a conventional airplane. In 1907 the first man-carrying helicopter, built by Paul Cornu, made a free vertical flight. But the design of this machine dates back to Leonardo da Vinci who drew plans for, and probably built, a small helicopter model.

Four Democratic Hopefuls Battle for Delegate Votes

By CHARLES DUMAS
ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The

four-way fight for the Democratic nomination for governor suddenly has become a mad scramble to reach the magic number — 573.

That's the number of delegates a contender must corral if he is to win nomination at the party's state convention in Buffalo two months from now.

Waited for Adjournment

Generally, the four announced candidates had been waiting for the Legislature to adjourn—and vacate the political stage—before launching their drives for delegate commitments.

The push began in earnest last week after Frank D. O'Connor, the New York City Council president, formally declared his candidacy.

Actually, O'Connor had taken a head start in the delegate derby. He had snared pledges from his home county of Queens and three small Upstate counties — Saratoga, Warren and Genesee — for a total of 141 votes.

Howard Samuels, the plastics millionaire from Canandaigua, countered this week by bagging Monroe County. Its 47 delegates thrust him into second place.

Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. claimed Dutchess and Delaware counties, with a total of 12 votes.

Nickerson Silent

Eugene Nickerson, the Nassau County executive, had no public commitments and maintained somewhat diffidently that he was not dabbling in the numbers game at this stage.

Actually, the Nickerson camp was beating the bushes hard for delegate support.

Moreover, when O'Connor told newsmen he would have 600 votes if the convention were held right now, Nickerson promptly challenged the claim.

saying he doubted O'Connor could produce more than 400.

So, if Nickerson was not making any claims of his own, at least he appeared to be keeping close tabs on the progress of his competitors.

The O'Connor - Nickerson exchange followed the familiar script of the old numbers game, as played by other politicians in so many contests of the past.

During the next few weeks, the New York public can look for the rival camps to issue increasingly exaggerated claims of delegate strength — each to be disputed by the others.

There will be stories written to the effect that one candidate or another is the "real choice" of such Democratic influential as U.S. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, President Lyndon Johnson or Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

The contenders also will complain that one or more of their rivals is trying to "steamroll" the convention in advance, is using "scare tactics" to whip reluctant delegates into line or is attempting to "buy" votes with promises of patronage to come.

It may be that one of the four will forge ahead of the pack and reach the magic number, thus winning the nomination.

What all of them really fear is that the party influential will trot in a new face from the wings at the last minute and award him the prize.

It has happened before, and no one would really be surprised if it happened again.

U.S. Double Agent Reports Spying for Reds Unprofitable

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Is spying for the Communists worthwhile?

"It is certainly not," in the opinion of the American double agent who got $3,440 for more than four years' espionage for the Czechs that was climaxed by a futile move to "bug" key offices in the State Department building.

The American, Frank J. Mrkva (pronounced merk' va), worked with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the State Department said Wednesday as it revealed details of the strange cloak and dagger case.

Although many secret listeners

ing devices have been uncovered in U.S. embassies in Communist capitals, this was the first time State Department authorities could recall an announced discovery of a Communist eavesdropping attempt right in their own headquarters.

The Czechs asked Mrkva at first to plant a tiny transmitter in the office of the director of Eastern European affairs, but they aimed for bigger game later—including turning in on the talks of Undersecretary of State George W. Ball.

The result of Korean War veteran Mrkva's super sleuthing: One Czech diplomat, Jiri Opatrny (pronounced y'ri opo'trin), a Czech Embassy attache here, has been ordered out of the country, second, Zdenek Pisk, is being allowed to stay in the United States at this time only because he is now with the Czech mission to the United Nations at New York, which puts him in a different diplomatic category.

Not to Be Expelled
U.S. sources at the United Nations said Wednesday that Pisk would not be expelled from this country because he "has done nothing to violate the U.N. headquarters agreement."

As for Mrkva, 38, the 6-foot-2 trim, brown-haired Beaver Falls, Pa., native and father of three is getting an honor award and a spot promotion boosting his salary from $9,267 to $10,987 a year.

At a State Department news conference Wednesday and in a later interview, Mrkva said it all began back 1961 when he was passport office employee whose duties included taking official passports to embassies around Washington for visas.

Mrkva's parents came from Czechoslovakia. He speaks Czech and still has relatives in the Iron Curtain country. Eventually, Pisk began inviting him to social functions at the embassy.

Had Instructions
Mrkva was under standing instructions to report to his superiors if any of the embassies tried to cultivate him. He did o—and he and his wife went on to receptions at the Czech mission.

Pisk made the first open bid to enlist Mrkva as a spy during dinner at a Washington restaurant Nov. 30, 1961. From then on the plot—as related by Mrkva—thickened.

From November 1961 through July 6, 1966, Mrkva met Pisk and Opatrny 48 times—on park benches in Northwest Washington, in the Maryland suburbs, in front of theaters, at a suburban Virginia shopping center.

After 11 sessions with Pisk, Opatrny took over. Pisk went back to Czechoslovakia in May 1963, returning to New York about two months ago.

Mrkva said he started off supplying the Czechs with relatively minor items, a State Department telephone book, press releases, nonsecret administrative reports.

Wanted Passport
Then the Reds wanted more—a blank U.S. passport of a new series, rooms and locations of officers in the State Department dealing with Czech affairs.

The Czech agent did not pay particularly well, however, from Mrkva's standpoint. He recalls getting "paltry sums" like $100 or $200 at a time.

Anyway, he was turning it all over to the FBI. "I don't have a cent of it," he said.

In May 1965, Opatrny disclosed his more serious goal—installing listening devices in State Department offices.

Mrkva provided him with a catalog of government furniture the last December which could be used in designing an eavesdropping gadget to fit unobtrusively with such furniture.

Contained Transmitter
Finally, last May 29 Opatrny gave Mrkva a small rectangular wood box about 13 inches long and 1 inch thick. It contained a tiny microphone and a radio transmitter which could be turned on and off by radio remote control outside the State Department building.

The Czech agent promised Mrkva $1,000 for sneaking the

After 11 sessions with Pisk, Opatrny took over. Pisk went back to Czechoslovakia in May 1963, returning to New York about two months ago.

Mrkva said he started off supplying the Czechs with relatively minor items, a State Department telephone book, press releases, nonsecret administrative reports.

Wanted Passport
Then the Reds wanted more—a blank U.S. passport of a new series, rooms and locations of officers in the State Department dealing with Czech affairs.

The Czech agent did not pay particularly well, however, from Mrkva's standpoint. He recalls getting "paltry sums" like $100 or $200 at a time.

Anyway, he was turning it all over to the FBI. "I don't have a cent of it," he said.

In May 1965, Opatrny disclosed his more serious goal—installing listening devices in State Department offices.

Mrkva provided him with a catalog of government furniture the last December which could be used in designing an eavesdropping gadget to fit unobtrusively with such furniture.

Contained Transmitter
Finally, last May 29 Opatrny gave Mrkva a small rectangular wood box about 13 inches long and 1 inch thick. It contained a tiny microphone and a radio transmitter which could be turned on and off by radio remote control outside the State Department building.

The Czech agent promised Mrkva $1,000 for sneaking the

Airline Strike Cutting Into Fruit Vegetables Stock

By SALLY RYAN

NEW YORK (AP) — The heat and the airline strike are shriveling supplies of fruit and vegetables in the nation's supermarkets.

Days of temperatures in the 90s and 100s have wilted lima beans in Wisconsin, burned peas in Minnesota, and cut the size of apricots and peaches in California and tomatoes in the middle Atlantic States.

"It has been rough on vegetables," a New York area supermarket spokesman said. "There has been considerable damage to the crops east of the Mississippi."

"It's not just the growing conditions," said a New York produce wholesaler. "You have to sell the produce quickly. You can't play with it too long in this weather."

The airline strike has added to the problem, cutting the supplies of strawberries and cherry tomatoes flown east from California.

Lobster lovers are suffering, too.

Shipments of lobster from New England to the Southwest, South and Midwest have been curtailed sharply.

The air strike is causing some disruptions in shipment patterns that may help some areas and hurt others. Goods that can't be shipped will pile up at home, causing surpluses there.

McDonald-Metrick Wedding Is Announced

Helen Margaret McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip F. McDonald of 307 Main Street, exchanged marriage vows with John Stephen Metrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Metrick of Van's Court, Lake Katrine, on Saturday, July 9, during a nuptial Mass in St. Joseph's Church, Kingston.

Officiating clergyman and celebrant of the Mass was the Rev. James V. Keating. James Sweeney was organist.

Vases of white carnations decorated the church for the occasion.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a sheath gown of crepe in empire style with a bodice and panel train of chantilly lace. A headpiece of silk flowers secured the silk illusion veil and she carried a lace covered prayer book with white streamers and roses.

The bride's sister Clara Marie McDonald of Kingston, served as maid of honor in an empire styled gown of white linen with double back panel. The bodice was accented with a green and white floral braid and a circlet of white linen braid held a short tulle veil. She carried a cascade of green ivy.

Serving as attendants were the bride's sister Jane McDonald of Kingston and Noreen Heybruck of Kingston. Junior attendants were Kathleen Dittus of Kingston and Cynthia Riseley of Kingston. All gowns were similar to that worn by the bride. The attendants carried cascades of green ivy and the junior attendants carried princess baskets of green ivy also.

Peter Rusk of Schenectady was best man while ushering were Lee B. Metrick of Boston, Mass., brother of the bridegroom, and Robert D. Peck of Hurley.

A wedding reception was given at The Brookside in Hurley.

The bride was graduated from Academy of St. Ursula and Dutchess Community College. She attended Mount St. Mary College of Newburgh summer school and is now on the teaching staff of St. Joseph's School in Kingston.

Mr. Metrick is an alumnus of Kingston High School. He attended RPI and served four years with the U. S. Navy. He is employed by IBM in Kingston and is attending Ulster Community College.

Mr. and Mrs. Metrick will be at home at 17 Crane Street, Kingston after August 1. They are now vacationing in New England and Canada.

Irish Teachers at New Paltz for U. S. Education Seminar; Opens on Monday, 18th

Forty-two teachers from Ireland will open a three-week Irish Teachers Seminar at State University College, New Paltz, Monday, July 18, under the sponsorship of the Irish Department of Education, the United States State Department, and the College.

The seminar, the sixth at New Paltz, is designed to acquaint the visiting teachers with American culture and particularly the practices and problems of education in this country.

Last year's group was received by President Johnson at the White House and also met former President Eisenhower, Senators Robert and Ted Kennedy, and other Washington figures in Congress and the government.

Half of this year's group will also be taken on tour of the East and the Mid-West after their meetings at New Paltz ending on August 6.

The seminar will open with a welcome from New Paltz Supervisor Peter Savago, Stephen Wachenfeld, of the Student Government Association, and Mr. Robert Davidson, assistant to the president of the College, Dr. William J. Haggerty.

A reception for New Paltz residents and a student dance at the College Union Building will be held in the visitors' honor Monday evening.

During their stay, the teachers will visit public schools in Poughkeepsie and Nyack, tour the United Nations, attend a baseball game at Yankee Stadium and a performance of "Show Boat" at Lincoln Center, and visit other places of cultural and educational interest in the area.

Lecturers the first week will be Dr. Marvin Rapp, president of Onondaga Community College, Syracuse, who will speak on "The Face of America"; Dr. Robert Schild, assistant superintendent of schools at Nyack, who will discuss the "Comprehensive Junior-Senior High School"; and Miss June Shageloff, Director for Education programs of the NAACP, New York City, who will talk on "The Civil Rights Movement."

Friday, Dr. James C. Faulkner, chairman of the Foreign Language division at New Paltz, and Mrs. Irene Faulkner, teacher of French at New Paltz High School, will discuss the teaching of foreign languages; that evening Dr. Haggerty will present a talk about the College.

The Saturday meeting will be held at the College Camp at Ashokan where Robert Holliday, Assistant Professor of Education at New Paltz, will head a discussion on "Teacher-Made Instructional Aids."

The teachers were required to prepare written reports on the seminar and tour upon their return to Ireland. Past reports indicate that the groups have been impressed by the hard work and enthusiasm of American teachers and by the informality in the classroom which leads to students' ability to express themselves in discussions. They have also commented often on the excellence of textbooks, the problems of mass education, and the broad cultural activities which they have found while in the United States.

One wrote, "The dedication of educators, legislators, and of course, parents, was most impressive. All of them seek to give young America the best possible chance to advance themselves to become worthy American citizens, and above all, to become individual thinkers, appreciative and critical."

The group will be headed by

Stephen Daly, an Irish teacher who proposed the seminars originally and obtained the necessary support from Irish and American educators and politicians.

The participating teachers are nominated by the Irish Department of Education with the concurrence of the American Embassy in Dublin.

VISTA Volunteer Fights Poverty In Harlem Area

EDITOR'S NOTE: Judy Lewis grew up in the clean comfort of White Plains, N.Y., and Coral Gables, Fla. Today, she lives in a small apartment in East Harlem, a heavily Puerto Rican section of crumbling tenements and littered streets. She is there as a VISTA volunteer — a domestic peace corpsman — and she spends her day serving residents who want the community to be a better place in which to live.

By JERRY STILKIND

NEW YORK (AP) — Judy Lewis, pretty, brunette and 24, stood in the kitchen doorway of the East Harlem apartment and frowned at the young mother of three.

"Olga," she said, "I'll help you any way I can, but I'm not going to privatize." Olga exhibited the shy embarrassment of someone being chided for an unfulfilled promise. "I want to go down to talk to Jimmy, but I guess I need a push," she said.

After 10 minutes more of discussion, Olga said, laughing: "Okay, okay, I got the idea. I'll go down and see Jimmy."

Judy left, admitting aside that, yes, maybe she had meant to motivate Olga.

But even then she couldn't be certain that Olga would do as she had promised — see the fellow tenant about setting up a meeting of residents to press for elimination of crumbling walls, vermin, a smelly staircase.

Judy Lewis, a graduate of the University of Michigan, only rarely can be sure that she is being effective in precipitating action. But she keeps talking and prodding, as she was trained to do.

Judy is one of about 2,300 VISTA volunteers working throughout the country — in ghettos, in hospital clinics, in settlement houses, with migrant workers, with Indian tribal councils — trying to help citizens help themselves.

VISTA, an arm of the nation's war on poverty, stands for Volunteers in Service to America. The volunteers have come to be known as domestic peace corpsmen.

About 104 of them serve in New York. Judy and 10 others work with an antipoverty program she considers unique — Block Communities, Inc.

David Borden, its 30-year-old founder, served as a training officer for the Peace Corps in Puerto Rico and moved to Spanish Harlem four years ago.

A native of Colorado and a father of four, Borden works with a philosophy he feels is simple — encourage the poor to take action on what they consider to be their problems, but never take the action for them.

While the philosophy may be simple, its application is not. The East Harlemites in the project, as well as the VISTA volunteers who participate through invitation, must have patience and a deep belief that the poor have the inner resources to change their own lives and conditions.

So Judy talks and prods people on East 118th Street, between Second and Third Avenues. Like all block workers in the project, she must live on the block where she works. Her residence since December has been a small, three room apartment she shares with Mary Breasted, 22, a native of Kent, Conn., and a Radcliffe College graduate. She, too, is a VISTA volunteer.

The warm, sunny day on which Judy visited Olga had begun when 18-year-old Lucy Santiago came to the apartment to discuss the five appointments she had later in the day with city and school officials and parents and teen-agers.

Lucy, unemployed and attending a high school at night, was vice president of a summer day camp for neighborhood children, an idea developed by teen-agers on East 118th and 119th streets.

Judy spent some time with Lucy, discussing the day camp objectives and the pitch she should make to city and school officials. Then Lucy set out on her mission, and Judy went onto the streets to pursue hers.

For her work among these people, Judy gets a living allowance and a $50 monthly stipend, the latter to be paid at the end of her service. For a girl who grew up in the comfort and security of White Plains, N.Y., and Coral Gables, Fla., this new life is "the greatest thing, and it's strange."

"There's so much to do," Judy says. "Who am I going to see today, talk to? Everybody on the block has problems, but you're trained not to get emotional, not to get overwhelmed by the problems."

"I try to deal with the attitude of people toward their problems, like apathy or negativism."

The hope is, she says, "that if one attitude changes, others will change."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk organza and alencon lace and a silk veil which was held by an alencon lace cap. She carried a bouquet of daisies and violets.

The maid of honor was Miss Valerie Fennell. Thomas Morrissey was best man.

Raymond Fennell and Heinz W. Engel were ushers.

Mrs. Fennell was graduated from St. Patrick's Academy and the Mildred Elley School. She

Sinatra Will Wed Mia Farrow This Winter; Prospective Bride Is 29 Years His Junior

NEW YORK (AP) — It's official. Frank Sinatra and Mia Farrow are engaged and they'll be wed sometime between Thanksgiving and Christmas.
The engagement was announced Wednesday by the mother of the bride-to-be, actress Maureen O'Sullivan.
"I couldn't be more delighted," the mother said. "Frank is a wonderful person and I know they'll be very happy together."
Sinatra, 50, was causing teenage girls to swoon as he sang with the bands of Harry James and Tommy Dorsey some years before his 21-year-old bride was born. He has a son and a daughter older than Miss Farrow.
The age difference doesn't matter, Miss O'Sullivan said. "I know people who are as young as 70. Frank has always been absolutely sweet when I've seen him."
Mia, who has been seeing Sinatra for two years, has said, "I feel more at ease with Frank than with any boy my own age."

Neither Sinatra nor Miss Farrow had any public comment on the engagement. He is in London, making the movie "The Naked Runner." She is on a shopping trip in New York and will return soon to Hollywood and her starring role in television's "Peyton Place," her mother said.
Before Sinatra left for London, he gave the blue-eyed, blonde Miss Farrow an engagement ring with a nine-carat, pear-shaped diamond. She described it as a "friendship ring" when newsmen first spotted it recently.
In 1962 Sinatra gave a similar ring—this one of 10 carats—to Juliet Prowse, 25, a dancer. But the engagement ended six weeks later, reportedly because she insisted on continuing her career.

Miss Farrow will not give up her career, it was announced.
Sinatra has been married twice. His first wife was Nancy Barbato, mother of all three Sinatra children, two of whom are in show business.
Frank Jr., 22, sings in night clubs and with bands. Nancy Sinatra, 26, also sings. Her recording of "These Boots Were Made For Walkin'" became the nation's top hit earlier this year.
Sinatra's first marriage ended in 1951 when he wed actress Ava Gardner. They were divorced in 1957.

Miss Farrow has not been married.
Sinatra, who has branched into varied entertainment activities, is estimated to gross $4 million to $6 million a year from his enterprises.

Beth Keator Is Feted

Among those attending were: Mrs. Lewis Keator, Mrs. Evelyn Priest, Mrs. Louise Fatum.
Among those attending were the Mmes. Lewis Keator, Evelyn Priest, Louise Fatum, Alvina Barton, John Krueger, Henry Fischang, Leon Keator, George Fatum, Joan Carr, Richard Smith, James Chase, Raymond Galvin, Robert McClury, Bertha Vollmer, Gerald Smith, Michael Hart, Ruth Kelder, Mildred Petrie, Violet Osterhoudt, Mae Plough, Roger Ten Eyck and Gerald Nichols.

Also, the Misses Linda Fischang, Sharon Fatum, Maureen Nichols, Susan Bellows and Diane Peterson.

Jane Marsh to Sing With Boston Symphony; First Appearance Since Moscow Triumph

Jane Marsh, who returned to this country Monday, July 11 after winning a first prize in the Tchaikovsky Competition, will make her first concert appearance in the United States at the Berkshire Festival on July 24. For that concert she will join Erich Leinsdorf and the Boston Symphony Orchestra with whom she made her American professional debut last autumn in Symphony Hall, Boston.

As the only American to win a first prize in the Tchaikovsky Music Contest since Van Cliburn in 1958, Miss Marsh received wide acclaim in the Soviet Union in concerts immediately after the competition. For the July 24 program at the Boston Symphony Orchestra's summer home, Tanglewood in Lenox, Mass., the 24 year old soprano will sing two Tchaikovsky arias: Lisa's Scene and Arioso from "Pique Dame" and the Letter Scene from "Eugene Onegin."

Veronica Tyler, second prize winner in Moscow, and Simon Estes, recipient of third prize, will also be heard at the July 24 Tanglewood concert. Miss Tyler will sing Et incarnatus est from Mozart's Mass in C minor and Mr. Estes will be heard in King Philip's aria from Verdi's "Don Carlo."

Miss Marsh will sing on two other occasions this summer with the Boston Symphony Orchestra at Tanglewood. On August 6 she performs in a concert version of Mozart's "The Magic Flute," an appearance scheduled prior to her departure for Moscow, and again on August 13 she will be heard in a program which will also include Stephen Kates, second prize winner in the Tchaikovsky cello competition. Two other prize winners in Moscow, Masuko Ushioda, young Japanese violinist and second prize winner, and 20 year old Misha Dichter, second prize in the piano competition, will be heard on Sunday afternoon, August 14. These engagements fulfill the invitation extended several months ago by the Orchestra to the Moscow Competition officials for appearances at Tanglewood by the prize winners. Messrs. Dichter and Kates were the highest ranking Americans in their respective competitions.

Bonds, Army Next

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Miss Israel says she will become a saleslady after the Miss Universe contest in Miami Beach. She will sell Israeli bonds in the United States.

"I have never sold anything before," admitted Aviva Israeli, a Tel Aviv student who speaks five languages and wants to become an interpreter. "But I think I'll do well."

She will spend three months in Los Angeles, she said, then tour the United States.

After that, she's to be drafted into the Israeli army for 20

Of Many Things

PEOPLE PODS ARE COMING

The next time your husband needs a ride to the airport, tell him to take a people pod. He'll probably laugh a lot, but people pods will soon be the best way to get from mid-city to the airport, says Engineering News-Record.

People pods will work something like this—the pods, bus-type things, would pick up travelers bound for the airport. Then at various city terminals, the pods would be attached to the bellies of helicopters, and flown to the airports. If you don't like the idea of being picked up by a pod, you can refer to it as a "sky-lounge" instead. That's the sophisticated term for just plain pod.

SOUND METHOD DOES DISHES

The next appliance for your kitchen will be an ultrasonic dishwasher, according to Electronics. Washing dishes can be a dreary chore for housewives, but an ultrasonic washer just loves the job. All it has to do is turn a little and the sound "shakes" the dirt off the dishes. The unit will clean anything that an ordinary dishwasher (the machine, not the housewife) can handle, without adding any detergents. In addition, the manufacturer eventually hopes to eliminate the need for hot water. It will sell for about $500.

WINE FROM THE SKIN

If you're sick of your crystal wine glasses, if you're tired of the dusty wine bottles on your table, you definitely need a change. Put a little atmosphere in your wine-drinking—drink it from a picturesque wine skin.

A modern "skin" will soon be on the market, according to International Management. It is a collapsible bag made of special plastic laminates and housed in a wooden case. This English "bag-in-a-box" is light, easily stored and relatively unbreakable. Also, the skin maintains a more uniform environment for the wine than any bottle outside the wine cellar. It would be great for primitive dinner parties.

ELIMINATE THE GRIND OF GROUNDS

Coffee grounds are messy. No matter how carefully you measure them into the pot, no matter how cautiously you dispose of them, a shower of grounds always manages to land on the kitchen counter, the floor, etc.

Now there's a new product that should eliminate the mess. It's a pouch made of filter paper which contains ground coffee pre-measured to brew two cups. The pouch is donut-shaped so that it fits over the stem of a regular percolator basket. To brew more than two cups, as many as four pouches can be inserted into large coffee-pot makers.

SEE-THROUGH DOOR

Now they've invented a refrigerator with a see-through door, according to Modern Plastics. An interior light, activated by pressing on the door handle, lets you see through the door into the refrigerator without opening it. (Yee, Gods!) And, when the interior light is off, the door appears opaque. The dubious reasons for the see-through door are:

One, to prevent heat entry. Now you can turn on the light, determine the exact location of the pickles or the mustard, open the door, snatch out the object of your desire, and slam the door quickly, thus keeping heat out and cold in.

Two, to save energy. Now you can flick the switch, see that you need a quart of milk, and dash off to the store—without having to pull the door open.

Think a see-through door is a bit unnecessary? We shouldn't smirk. After all, people did laugh at the electric toothbrush, too.

Creative Cooking Contest Is Scheduled By New York State Exposition Officials

The 1966 Art and Home Center's Creative Cooking Contest is offering $1,771.87 in cash prizes to the state's best cooks, announces Mrs. Gerald L. Twentymann, superintendent of the Creative Cooking Department.

Entries will be judged and prizes awarded during the New York State Exposition, which will be held in Syracuse Tuesday, Aug. 30 through Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 5.

Premium books containing entry blanks are now available through the Art and Home Center, New York State Exposition, Syracuse, 13209. Deadline for entry is August 19.

A different type of food and cake will be featured every day during the Expo in the Creative Cooking Contest.

Judges will be Mrs. Bernie Fitchett, home economist and author of Bernie Fitchett's Hudson Valley Recipe Book; Mrs. Elizabeth Heineman of the Elizabeth Heineman Cooking School and Mary K. Dienst, associate professor of home economics, State University College, Buffalo. The latter two women will also appear as demonstrators in the Art and Home Center's Food Demonstration Kitchen.

Also judging will be Miss Cathryn R. Bernston, executive director, Dairy Council of the Southern Tier of New York, Inc.; Miss Mary Healy, instructor in foods and nutrition at State University College, Plattsburgh; Lila Perl, home economist and author of Red Flannel Hash and Shoo-Fly Pie; and Miss Marjorie Burns, professor, food and nutrition department, College of Home Economics, Cornell University.

In addition to the cash prizes, four Grand Prizes will be given in Creative Cooking. A Unico Portable Dishwasher will be presented to the "Most Creative Cook" of the 1966 Expo through the courtesy of Agway, Inc. Judges will select the most creative entry in each section and the winner will be chosen from these finalists.

The first runner-up will receive a "Bake-Broil" tray from Corning Glass. The second runner-up will receive a Salton Hot Tray from the W. S. Owen Company. The Empire Sugar Company will provide a small kitchen appliance to be awarded to the best traditional entry submitted.

This year the Expo is celebrating "125 Years of History-Making" and some special prizes are being awarded in Creative Cooking in honor of this theme.

In recognition of the fact that the first fair in the state was held in 1841, a first prize of $18.41 will be given in one class of each section of the contest. Six of these will be given for a favorite dish made using an old recipe.

The other $18.41 first prize will be made for the Governor's Cookie Jar, an entirely new entry class in this contest. This jar of fancy assorted cookies made from different kinds of batters and doughs will be judged 90 per cent of the cookies it contains and 10 per cent on the jar. The rosette winning jar will be presented to Governor Nelson E. Rockefeller by the winner on Governor's Day, Thursday, Sept. 1.

The entire last day of the Expo will be devoted to old recipes with a modern touch in celebration of the anniversary theme.

Medical Association For Distaff Doctors Names New President

By JOY MILLER
AP WOMEN'S Editor

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — The blue eyes of Dr. Lore Antoine, smudged by time, seem eternally sad—as if she has looked upon too much suffering in her 70 years.

In her native Austria she cared for the wounded and dying of two world wars, treated the sick under Nazi occupation and under 10 years of the occupying Allied powers.

To her politics is a word; it is only helping those who need help that has meaning.

That's why she says it is time "to disregard political discrepancies" and ask the medical women of the Eastern European countries to join in a mutually beneficial exchange of scientific knowledge.

When she is installed tonight as president of the 10,000-member Medical Women's International Association—with affiliates in 33 countries—she will offer individual membership to the women doctors of the Iron Curtain countries.

"Coming from a neutral country set in the heart of Europe, and having had occasion to attend many international meetings, I am probably in a position to judge the necessity of no longer excluding the medical women of the Eastern countries of Europe," she plans to say in her address.

She hopes they will be allowed to join because "medicine is developing so fast now that we must all pick up the newest research just as fast as we can. Women need international conferences in medical specialties."

The final session in the week-long 10th congress of the medical women will be held Friday across the Canadian border in Niagara Falls, Ont. The next congress will be held in two years in Vienna.

Dr. Antoine, a small woman with short gray hair and remarkable endurance, carries on a thriving practice and also lectures in hygiene at the University of Vienna, where her husband is a professor of gynecology.

Her daughter is married to a doctor. Dr. Antoine seems especially proud her grandson was born in America—while her son-in-law was studying anesthesia at Columbia Presbyterian Hospital in New York.

New Miss Tall

CINCINNATI (AP) — Adria Easton of Denver, a 5-11 brunette, is the new Miss Tall North America.

The 18-year-old beauty won the competition in Cincinnati Wednesday night over 16 other long-limbed lovelies. Treva Foelker of Milwaukee, 23 and six feet tall, was runnerup.

School Schedule Is Established By Talmud Torah

At the monthly meeting in July, the Talmud Torah Board established the Hebrew and Religious School schedule for the year 1966-67.

Classes will begin on Sept. 19. This will allow for the preparation of the students for the High Holy Days observed in the early fall of 1966.

Previously enrolled children are automatically registered for their proper class. New registrations are now being accepted by the Sunday school and Hebrew school. To start children in the Talmud Torah, an approved New York State Board of Regents School, parents may contact Mrs. Alfred Rose, 65 Amsterdam Avenue, Kingston.

To qualify for a Saturday morning Bar Mitzvah, the children of Congregations Agudas Achim and Ahavath Israel are required to complete five years of study in the Hebrew School.

This means from eight years of age; six and seven year old boys and girls will register for Sunday school.

The Talmud Torah of Kingston is conducted by the traditional synagogues and is open to all affiliated and non-affiliated families.

The educational committee, with Rabbis Harry Z. Schectman and H. Z. Rappaport's direction, has completely revised the school curriculum.

Chairman Joseph Cohen, in preparation for the new school term, is interviewing experienced teachers to complete the Talmud Torah faculty.

Jersey Man Hurt In Thruway Crash

Frank Hagadorn, 31, of 281 Shoreland Circle, Lawrence Harbor, N. J., was injured shortly after 3:30 p. m. Wednesday when a tractor-trailer he was operating on the State Thruway north of Kingston, went out of control. Hagadorn was taken to Kingston Hospital by Fatum's Ambulance. He was treated for an injury of the left wrist and released. According to reports a tire on the vehicle blew out causing the tractor-trailer to veer onto the mall.

Health Dept. Seeks 3 More Staff Workers

These people, who would be under the direct supervision of Health Department staff, are needed to fulfill the activities of a Federal project grant for Migrant Health Services.

Lift Restrictions On Port Ewen Water

Restrictions on the use of water in the Port Ewen Water District have been lifted, according to Miss Emily Card, town clerk. The water system is again pumping from its Hudson River filtering plant. The district had been using its well source during the painting of the storage and settling tanks at the Hudson River filtration plant.

For further information regarding these positions, Miss Helen Genesis, director of Public Health Nursing, Ulster County Office Building, 244 Fair St., may be contacted.

The boy's father, who operates Schneller's Meat Market, 63 John Street, told a reporter that his son and other youngsters were swimming under water in the pool when he blacked out. He was taken from the pool by a woman, who immediately administered artificial respiration.

Braves Will Play Paterson Phillies Saturday at Dietz

New Jersey Nine Backed by Phils

The crack Patterson Phillies, champions of the North Jersey-Bergen County baseball league seven of the past eight years, give the high riding Kingston Braves their moment of truth, Saturday night at Dietz Stadium.

To date the Braves have won two out of three with one tie, but Promoter Fred Davi is quick to admit that none of the opponents to date is in a class with the Phillies.

Ben Marmo, Philadelphia Phillies scout, s one of the team's advisors and has channeled a steady stream of college prospects into the Paterson lineup. Bob Potts is the team manager and sponsor.

Joe Reyda, a standout with Upsala College, is the probable starter against the Braves' Ron Thomas.

Have Top Slugger
Top slugger with the Phillies is Ken Kraynak, a hard hitting (.424) first baseman, who also happens to be a club vice president. Kraynak, who has also 10 home runs to date, spent seven seasons in the Cleveland Indian chain and also saw service in the Pacific and International Leagues.

Rounding out the Phillies' infield are:

Garry Kemphouse, 2b, former Paterson Tech star in his seventh year with club; Joe Valenzano, 3b, first season with club from Upsala College; and Bob Profitko, ss, fourth year with Phillies from Ferrum College, Virginia.

The outfield includes:

Chuck Fournier, lf, eighth year with team, former Giants minor leaguer; Ray Lyde, cf, former Paterson Eastside star in third year, and Frank Storicks, rf, Montclair State College in second year.

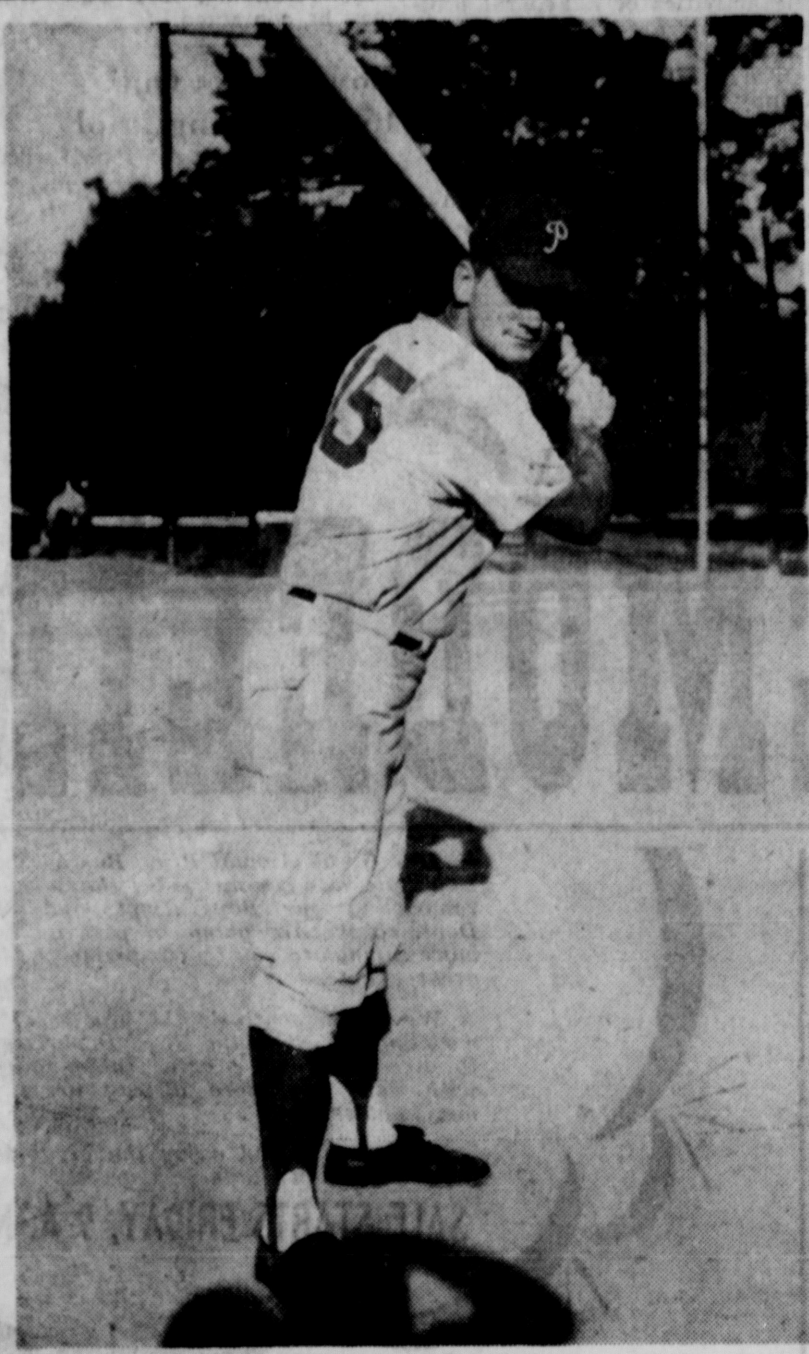

Ron Ruta, former minor league in the Cleveland farm system, is the catcher.

College Staff

Reyda heads a seven-man pitching staff, six with collegiate backgrounds. The list includes Elliott Klein, Holy Cross; Bruce Aitken, Florida Southern; Rich Corsetto, Harvard College; Charlie Linfante, Fairleigh Dickinson; Frank Vandeweghe, Ithaca College, and Skip Van Riper, who pitched at Pompton Lakes High School.

If Manager Paul Giannuzzi adheres to his pitching rotation, Ron Thomas of Wagner College will be on the firing line against the Phillies.

Thomas opened the season with a tough, 4-hit, 3-2 victory over the Poughkeepsie All Stars. Brian Bach beat the Newburgh Rookies All Stars, 16-3, and Lon McAndrew was involved in a 1-1 tie with Albany All Stars. The game was interrupted by rain after five innings.

PATERSON SLUGGER—Ken Kraynak, slugging first sacker of the Paterson Phillies, who meet the Kingston Braves Saturday night at Dietz Stadium. Kraynak is also a vice president of the club. (Paterson Evening News Photo).

Heffner Canned; Bristol New Man

CINCINNATI (AP) — Don Heffner has been fired as manager of the Cincinnati Reds and coach Dave Bristol, only 33, has the job today of trying to pull the team into the first division in the National League.

Bristol was named Wednesday as an interim manager to take over the eighth-place Reds for the second half of the season.

Bristol takes over tonight as the Reds face the St. Louis Cardinals in a two-night double-header.

The firing of Heffner followed repeated denials by Cincinnati Owner-General Manager Bill DeWitt that he planned any changes.

As recently as Tuesday night DeWitt was quoted by Lou Smith, sports editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, as saying in St. Louis, "I haven't given it a serious thought" in reply to questions about Heffner's future.

Heffner held a workout for the team Wednesday morning before getting word he had lost his job.

Bristol, a former minor league infielder and manager, is the third man to head the Reds since Fred Hutchinson was stricken with cancer and had to quit as manager late in the 1964 season. Hutchinson died later.

Noble Victory Accepts Bid For Saratoga's Jubilee Race

SARATOGA SPRINGS—The big buzz around Saratoga Raceway these days is the announcement by track president Ernest B. Morris that world champion trotter Noble Victory is the first to accept an invitation to the $15,000 Saratoga Raceway Silver Anniversary Championship on July 29.

Interest is bound to soar even higher when others among the nation's best accept bids to face the remarkable Noble Victory.

Noble Victory and his trainer-driver Stanley Dancer will not lack for support. Track fans recall their tremendous feat in last year's Battle of Saratoga—the great come-from-behind effort of the famed pair in the $16,337 Runnymede Division.

Noble Victory broke before the start, got away far behind the field, raced up on the outside to be fourth at the half and second at the three quarters. Dancer urged the game diagonal to the front at the head of the stretch and won by two and a quarter lengths in a scorching 2:02 2/5.

Faces Crack Field

Although Noble Victory is sure to be a popular favorite July 29, he'll be facing some of the stiffest competition of his illustrious career and it's almost a cinch records will be broken. It was less than two weeks ago that the four-year-old Victory Song trotter captured the $50,000 American Trotting Championship in 2:31 2/5 to equal the World Record for one and a quarter miles established by retired Speedy Scot in 1964.

That win was only the second this year for Noble Victory, but he's had only seven starts and has been out of the money only once. His 1966 earnings of $60,550 boost his lifetime bankroll to $372,245.

It was last Spring that Noble Victory was syndicated for one million dollars after he won 10 of 18 last year for $170,532. His two-year-old record was a remarkable 18 of 19 and brought him the honor of being named the country's juvenile trotting horse of the year.

The Spa track certainly won't appear strange to Noble Victory and Dancer. Beside combining to win their Grand Circuit appearance here in 1965, they also boast of having won two dashes of the $16,887 Bostwick Division of the Battle of Saratoga in 1964.

Griffith Tops Archer To Retain Ring Title

NEW YORK (AP) — "If Joey Archer wants another shot he can have it and so can Dick Tiger," said middleweight champion Emile Griffith today. "I'm a fighting champion and I'll fight anyone if the price is right."

The aggressive, strong 28-year-old Griffith took the middleweight title from Tiger in April and successfully defended it Wednesday night with a majority decision over Archer in a brisk 15-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Many champions in the past have talked about being fighting champions but few have delivered. You can't fault Griffith on that point. The husky Virgin Islands native has been busier than an air-conditioner salesman during a heat wave.

Griffith has had 14 title fights, 12 as a welterweight and two as a middleweight in five years, three months. His welterweight title record is 10-2.

Judge Artie Aidala, 9-5-1, and judge Al Berl, 8-7, voted for Griffith. Referee Johnny Lo-
Blanco called it a 7-7 draw, giving each seven rounds and seven points. At the end of 12 rounds, Aidala and Berl each had it 8-4 while LoBlanco had it
7-4-1, all for Griffith.

The Associated Press had it 9-5-1 for Griffith. The ringside poll favored Griffith 18-5. Most of the scores had Griffith the winner by big margins.

There were no knockdowns but Griffith buckled Archer's knees with a jarring left and right combination to the head in the sixth round. He hurt Joey again right at the start of the eighth with two thumping left hooks to the jaw.

Miss Dietrich had a three-hole edge with three holes left but was forced into the last-hole re-

the Yahundasis Golf Club.

Paltz Explorer Post Tells About Adventure Jaunt

Explorer Post 172 of New Paltz recently participated on a high adventure trip to the Wisconsin Northern Lake District covering about 2,800 miles.

The first stop on the route was at the Niagara Falls Air Station where they stayed overnight. Dinner and breakfast was obtained in the airman's mess hall. An early start across Canada and through Detroit brought the group to the Fort Custer Air Force Station. Lt. Trower, who had just received his orders for Viet Nam duty, showed the boys all the workings of a jet fighter. That afternoon the boys swam at the Air Force recreation park, played pool and ping pong at the Service Club, and talked to some airmen on the base.

Fort Custer during World War II was a major infantry training center. The fort capacity is over 100,000. The boys saw all the old buildings and training grounds. Now, a small part of the camp is used for the Job Corps.

The next day and evening a change of pace was in order. The boys stopped at the Devils Lake State Park in lower Wisconsin. At the park there was a dance pavilion and being Saturday night the park was full of Midwestern teenagers, from Milwaukee and Chicago. Some of the boys did the tug, swim and other dances with some of the midwestern girls.

Finally on Sunday the group arrived at the Canoe Base, and started training for the trip on the rivers and lakes of Wisconsin.

This training is indispensable for an enjoyable trip. It is an excellent example of training available to boys through the Boy Scouts of America. This base is one of the National Boy Scout and Explorers bases in the country.

At noon on Monday the base trucked the boys, their canoes and equipment up into Michigan. From there the boys paddled and portaged back to the base. Approximately 35 miles were covered, of which two miles were portaged. Plenty of time for swimming, exploring and fishing was available.

One breakfast had some fresh picked from the menu supplied by one of the boys. Along the trail dehydrated foods, furnished by the base, were also thoroughly enjoyed.

With no mishaps or swamping the boys paddled into the base on Saturday morning. Saturday afternoon was spent at the laundromat in Boulder Junction. A final meal at the base and a campfire on the shores of the lake completed the stay in Wisconsin.

Early Sunday the Post took off for home via Canada and the Lock at Soo Michigan. This route proved to be about 70 miles shorter and $11 cheaper by the time we arrived home due to the lack of toll roads in Canada. Two stops were made in Canada at National Parks, and a couple of shopping stops in Canadian cities.

On Tuesday the group reentered the States near Malone, New York and proceeded to the Air Force Base in Plattsburg. There the boys toured the base, had dinner, attended a movie and slept in nice comfortable beds for the first time in nine days.

Wednesday at noon the boys all arrived back in New Paltz. The boys are now thinking of a skiing trip in the winter and a surfboarding trip to Florida in the spring.

Randy and Terry Oakley, Michael Confer, Patrick Brennan, Thomas Corwin, Wayne DuBois, Bruce Barlow and John Johnston made the trip. Robert Johnston, post advisor and New Paltz postmaster, made the trip with the boys. The Post is sponsored by the New Paltz Reformed Church.

World News In Brief

Won Three Tests
ROME (AP) — Premier Aldo Moro's third center-left coalition government won three snap confidence votes Wednesday night in its first crucial test in Parliament since being sworn in Feb. 24.

Moro called the confidence votes on one Fascist and two Communist amendments to a government bill giving pensions to civilian invalids. The amendments would have raised the proposed pensions from $12.80 a month to as high as $25.10. Moro said the government couldn't afford this.

The vote was seen as having a strengthening effect on the coalition of Moro's Christian Democrats, Socialists, Democratic Socialists and Republicans.

To Cut Controls
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Argentina's new military regime said Wednesday night it plans to cut down state controls over business and encourage free enterprise to help the country's ailing economy.

A statement issued after a meeting of strong man President Juan Carlos Onganía's Cabinet did not give details of the planned measures, but informed sources said they would include the removal of curbs on foreign trade and currency restrictions.

Onganía took over June 28 after army leaders forced elected President Arturo Illia out.

1,401 Escape to Austria
VIENNA, Austria (AP) — A total of 1,401 refugees arrived in Austria from Communist Eastern Europe in the first six months of this year. Interior Minister Franz Herzenauer told Parliament.

More than half of the arrivals — 738 — were from Yugoslavia, which has an open border with Austria, the interior minister said.

Will Be Relieved
JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The commander of Indonesia's most powerful military force will be relieved of his command on July 20, usually reliable sources said today.

The sources said Maj. Gen. Ibrahim Adje, commander of the 30,000-man Siliwangi Division, will be replaced by his chief of staff, Maj. Gen. H.R. Dahsono. Adje has been close to President Sukarno.

The Siliwangi Division is considered the key to control of Java.

Select Gotham For Pilot School In Year 2,000

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City has been selected by state and federal education officials to develop a pilot "school for the year 2,000."

The Board of Education said Wednesday that the U.S. Office of Education had approved the state Education Department's selection of New York City as the first school district in the nation to develop the program of "education for life in the 21st century."

Schools Superintendent Dr. Bernard E. Donovan will chair a task force to develop plans for the program.

The board said that among the things considered in the planning would be the type of world anticipated for the year 2,000, changing goals of education, changing needs of people and the role of community institutions in meeting those needs.

Also on the task force will be the United Federation of Teachers President Albert Shanker, Assistant City School Superintendent Jacob Zack and representatives of state and federal agencies.

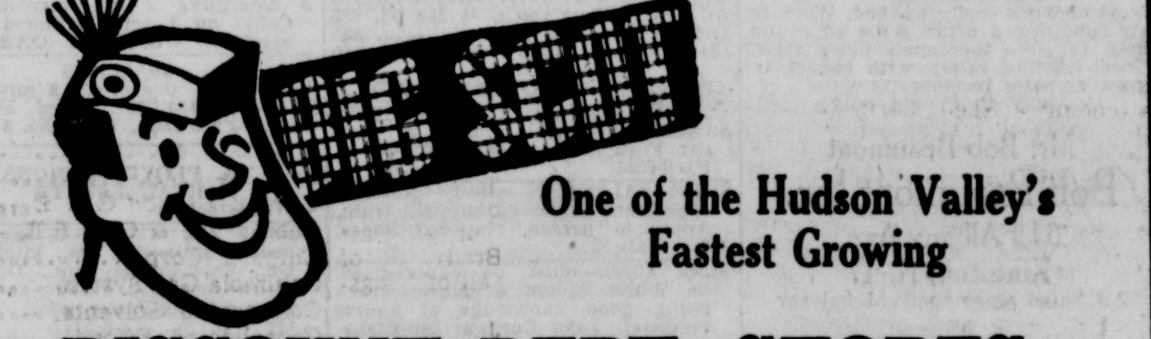

Named to Head Young New Yorkers for Rocky

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's campaign headquarters has announced that John D. Deardourff will head "Young New Yorkers for Rockefeller" in the governor's campaign for re-election in November.

Deardourff, 33, of Hastings-on-Hudson, helped organize Rockefeller's successful Oregon presidential primary campaign in 1964.

Meanwhile, Howard Samuel's, one of four Democrats seeking to oppose the governor in November, said that if he is nominated he will insist that a Negro be on the same statewide ticket.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rallied early this afternoon after riding out the news of a boost in the British bank rate. Trading was active.

Stock prices remained on an even keel despite the growing stringency of world-wide credit reflected by the jump in the basic British interest rate to 7 per cent from 6 per cent.

That action was followed by a rallying in the British pound which has been in trouble again recently.

In Wall Street it was expected that another increase in the Federal Reserve Board's discount rate, now at 4½ per cent, is very likely, especially in view of the British increase. The higher interest rates and tightening of credit have dampened stock prices but now that a major part of the bad news is out of the way, stocks began to show strength.

Gains of fractions to 2 or 3 points were posted. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 3 at 319.7 with industrials up 1.0, rails off 4 and utilities up 1.2. The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.45 at 884.85.

With reports of some issues being narrowed in the airline strike, airline stocks showed a burst of strength. Eastern and American rose about 3, Pan American about 2.

Up about 3 points were Xerox, IBM and Polaroid. Zenith rose nearly 3.

U.S. Rubber, up 2, paced the group. Goodrich and Goodyear gained more than 1 each.

Leading motors remained fractionally lower. Steels and oils were mixed.

Downs Syrian MIG

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Israeli air force planes today shot down a Syrian MIG in a dogfight over Syrian territory, an Israeli army spokesman announced.

Four MIGs engaged the Israelis as they attacked tractors, trucks and other construction equipment in Syrian territory, the spokesman said.

The attacks came in the wake of four explosions in Israeli territory in the past two days in which two persons were killed in sabotage incidents.

Today's raids were aimed at Syrian equipment similar to the Israeli equipment that was destroyed, the spokesman said.

Entire State Suffers
According to an Associated Press report today, the U. S. Weather Bureau claims that the low humidity spell ravaging New York State has been caused by the influx of a cooler and drier air mass from Canada. It was expected to spread over the state today, leaving temperatures about the same.

The mercury generally climbed into the 90s for the third consecutive day Wednesday in New York City and 98 in Albany. Buffalo in extreme western New York and Plattsburgh in extreme northeastern New York apparently were the coolest places in the state, with highs of 81 and 80 respectively.

Feels Like Corn — Hot, Dry
While thunderstorms and rain were expected Wednesday afternoon in eastern and northeastern New York, the cooling, wet weather blew into nearby New England instead.

Meanwhile, farmers were looking to their wilting, drying crops and hoping for good, soaking rains.

"The corn feels just like I do — hot and dry," said an upstate farm agent Wednesday.

"We're not in serious condition by any means," Norman Kiddle, Albany County agent added, however.

"The high temperatures are drying the surface, but we're very happy with moisture conditions as a whole. It's the best generally in five years."

The two agents agreed with other agricultural extension advisers who said that corn and other surface crops have suffered from the prolonged period of hot, dry weather, but not as severely as in recent years.

Along the Hudson Valley, farm experts said Forage crops were suffering from the heat and dryness but reported orchard trees had suffered only minor damage.

Ironically, regionally heavy downpours Sunday—in the middle of the heat spell—caused damage to the Columbia County fruit crop estimated at up to $500,000.

The damage to fruit — tree crops, near Hudson, could total 200,000 bushels, a county agent said, and estimated about 50 per cent of the county's sweet and sour cherry crop also had been damaged.

Meanwhile, the broiling temperatures in the nation's three-week-old heat belt claimed at least 106 lives.

Scores of others, the Associated Press said today, have been treated in hospitals for heat exhaustion.

Heat-related deaths in St. Louis and in two Illinois counties across the Mississippi River from the city totaled 87, including 54 in St. Louis.

The mercury soared to 106 degrees in St. Louis Wednesday, marking the fifth straight day of temperatures above 100.

Scorching heat was over a wide area including the new high for the date in New York City. Philadelphia's 97 was a high for the date. Batesville, Ark., reported 108 while Little Rock had 103, the same as reported at Fort Smith, Pine Bluff and Blytheville.

Nashville, Tenn., had the hottest day—103—since Sept. 6, 1954, and Memphis' 101 was the fourth straight day of 100 or higher, the longest spell of such temperatures in 12 years.

Tornadoes and thunderstorms broke out in the Midwest and parts of New England during the night. A twister knocked down power lines, uprooted trees and damaged farm buildings north of Rockford, Ill. A tornado that hit the Machesney Airport near Rockford flattened three hangars and damaged 20 planes, leaving an estimated $75,000 damage.

Chicago Has

more volleys as spectators ducked behind brick walls and mailboxes.

The night's second incident erupted 2½ hours later, some three miles west and along Pulaski Road. White detectives who had arrested a Negro robbery suspect were peppered with rocks by an all-Negro crowd.

Looted Stores
Then the crowds broke out of control, smashed windows and looted stores.

The district's police commander, George Sims, a Negro, refused to estimate exactly how many hundreds of people were involved.

"These night fighters throw a rock from a rooftop or an alley and then melt away," he said.

The area was the scene of two nights or rioting last August. But the night's most serious incidents occurred up and down the mile-long strip of Roosevelt Road that divides the all-Negro public housing neighborhood to the south from a poor Italian-American neighborhood to the north.

Some 500 police flooded the area as the night wore on. They were attacked by crowds that at times numbered more than 300. The crowds would disperse as police advanced on them, only to reassemble a block or so away.

Started at 5:30
The incidents started shortly after 5:30 p.m. Heavy rain brought a momentary lull, but fighting broke out again when the rain stopped.

During the lull, members of the West Side Organization, a Negro social club group, heard an aide of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. plead for calm.

"I'm as ready to die as any man," said the Rev. Andrew Young, "but get yourselves something worth dying for. In Watts, a whole lot of people got hurt because they weren't organized. Sure the kids need swimming pools here. But this is a little thing we blow hot about. The main problem is that there are too many of us packed in here. We need living space."

Was Shouted Down
But Young was shouted down, mostly by youths who had entered the storefront hall.

"We are mad," one youth shouted. "And the only thing we have left is rocks and bottles."

"Hate, hate, hate," came the chant from one group of youths. Earlier, a crowd deserted comedian Dick Gregory who said he was trying to channel the crowd's anger toward legitimate protest.

In Tuesday night's disturbance, Dr. King himself lost control of gang members who walked out during a meeting in a church.

King was not seen in the area Wednesday night. "One of the reasons these people are so mad is that the mayor (Richard J. Daley) turned down Dr. King's suggestions, Monday," one youth worker said.

Leading CR Drive
King is leading an antislum, civil rights drive in Chicago. Residents in the area were uniformly bitter.

One man said: "The white man's strategy is causing this. Ask the city, ask the mayor, to compare the price of the water from one hydrant to all the money that's been wasted through vandalism and rioting."

A policeman replied: "It was absolutely essential to turn off that hydrant. If we hadn't we wouldn't have water pressure to fight fires."

The police force is making war on babies," one Negro woman said. "That's what got us so mad."

Holt to Return
WASHINGTON (AP)—Australia's Prime Minister Harold E. Holt, in Washington for the second time in two weeks, attends a presidential luncheon in his honor today and then begins his journey home.

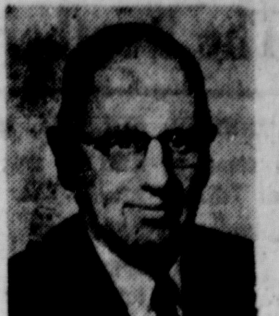

Holt arrived in Washington yesterday for another round of talks with President Johnson and, last night, a cruise along the Potomac River. Between visits, the prime minister had traveled to London for discussions with Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

There are 11 colleges and universities located in the Philadelphia, Pa., area.

Disregard Promotional Devices, Hold Strong Oil

Q—"I own Sinclair Oil stock bought 20 years ago at about 8½ per share. Now the company is sending out gift catalogues and I am wondering what is behind this promotion. Should I hold on to it?" E. R.

A—"You are a very fortunate person indeed. I do not know why this company is sending out gift catalogues. I do know that competition among the oil companies is very keen and that a number of major firms are offering money prizes and other incentives to lure customers into their stations.

As far as you are concerned, I should regard the matter of Sinclair's promotional efforts as unimportant. You hold a good stock which has increased in value seven-fold since you purchased it. Sinclair is one of the larger integrated oils which has been growing through mergers, is upgrading its product line and expanding strongly into chemicals. Share earnings rose sharply in 1965 and were up 30 per cent in the first quarter of 1966. I have more than once recommended its purchase here and I continue to regard Sinclair as a sound holding which gives you a very high return on your cost price. The dividend was raised recently to $0.60 quarterly and the outlook is promising for further boosts.

Q—"I wish to buy a high-grade tax-exempt, preferably in Indiana. Please advise me of some that yield four per cent."

J. M.

A—"There are many Indiana bonds available, although I doubt if there are any truly high-grade marketable issues there which yield four per cent. Indiana Toll Road Commission Revenue 3½s of 1994 sell on a 4.30 basis but carry a rather low B rating.

If you will allow me, I advise you to disregard sentiment in purchasing a tax-exempt. You can buy Santa Monica, California, Parkway Authority (when issued) 3s of 1985 on a four per cent basis. These bonds carry an A rating.

Despite the lull in the ground war, U.S. casualties continued at approximately the same rate as last week. An American spokesman said 110 Americans were killed, 620 wounded and seven missing or captured, compared with 115 killed, 487 wounded and four missing in the week ending July 2.

By unofficial count, 2,391 Americans have been killed since Jan. 1 and 4,239 since the U.S. involvement in the war.

Week Toll Is 287
In all 287 allied servicemen died in combat last week, compared with 368 in the week of June 26-July 2. Communist dead were listed at 1,349 up from 1,125 in the previous week. The number of Reds captured declined from 114 to 71.

Hanoi claimed North Viet Nam's air force shot down two U.S. planes in the Hanoi area Wednesday. A U.S. spokesman said he had no report of any American plane lost over the North Wednesday, when Navy and Air Force planes flew 85 missions.

Among the targets was an oil storage area 30 miles northwest of Vinh, keeping up the U.S. offensive to cut North Viet Nam's fuel reserves.

Also hit were five anti-aircraft sites, bridges, barges, trucks and storage buildings.

Flew 407 Sorties
In air action over South Viet Nam, American pilots flew 407 sorties Wednesday and reported possibly killing 37 Viet Cong soldiers, destroying or damaging 328 huts and fortifications and sinking 24 sampans. South Vietnamese pilots flew 259 sorties.

In scattered patrol clashes in the northern provinces Wednesday, U.S. Marines reported killing 21 Viet Cong.

For the second time this week, American planes showed surrender leaflets over North Viet Nam Wednesday. A spokesman said 2,730,000 leaflets were dropped to persuade North Vietnamese soldiers who infiltrated south to give up.

The leaflets carried photos of a group of North Vietnamese soldiers who were captured in South Viet Nam and released to the North last January 30.

Protest Raid
North Viet Nam today sharply protested the followup raid by U.S. planes on the oil depot in the Haiphong dock area last Thursday. A Foreign Ministry statement charged the American planes with "directly menacing foreign merchant ships which were then in the port."

The Soviet Union protested to the United States on Saturday that Soviet ships and lives were endangered by the attack. Secretary of State Dean Rusk brushed off the protest. Three freighters were seen in the outer harbor of Haiphong but their nationality was not given by U.S. officials.

The North Vietnamese statement charged the United States with "plotting to stage a naval blockade and paralyze the ports" of North Viet Nam.

While the air war above the 17th Parallel dominated the battle reports, several battalions of the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile Division and 700 Vietnamese troops reported seizing large enemy stores in sweeps in Phu Yen and Phu Bon Provinces, on South Viet Nam's central coast about 220 miles northeast of Saigon.

Their booty included parts of large Soviet-designed 120mm mortars used by North Vietnamese units as portable heavy artillery. The cavalrymen also seized machine guns, smaller mortars, hand weapons and more than 250 North Vietnamese army packs but did not make contact with the enemy heavy-weapons battalion thought to be in the area.

Since the operation—Henry Clay—began July 2, a total of 27 Communists have been killed and two captured, a spokesman said.

Pressman Passes Out Viet War Leaflets

According to Nathan Pressman, an active member of the Socialist Labor Party, who resides in Ellenville, he distributed last Saturday morning in Ellenville, Socialist Labor Party leaflets about the war in Viet Nam.

Pressman reports that reception was good. He intends to give out Socialist Labor Party leaflets in other villages and cities in this area.

He will also assist in helping to gather signatures so that the Socialist Labor Party candidates, headed by Milton Herd for Governor, can appear on the New York State ballot in this fall's election.

The other winners were the Fayetteville-Manlius Yorkers, who won the $500 Special Historical Award; and the Literacy Volunteers of United Church Women, who won first-place in the general category. Awards of $100 apiece went to the Syracuse Jaycees, third; and "The In" of Baldwinsville, fourth.

Other State Awards
In addition to the New York State recognition, the Ulster County club won two membership awards at the 47th annual convention of the New York State Business and Professional Women's Club held recently at Lake George.

A framed citation and desk set were presented to Mrs. Vera Bishop, the club's second vice president, who attended the convention as a delegate.

The Ulster County Business and Professional Women's Club received its charter in January of 1964. It was sponsored by the Albany BPW and this fall, the local group will launch a full scale membership campaign.

President Johnson's call for a "peace of conciliation" in Asia as a new "saber-rattling."

Informants in Moscow said Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi had been spurred to make her trip to the Soviet capital because India had received indications that North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh wanted some sort of truce. As yet, Mrs. Gandhi does not appear to have made any headway in enlisting Soviet support for her peace plan. It calls for reconvening the 1954 Geneva conference, an end to the U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam and a truce throughout Viet Nam supervised by the International Control Commission.

Weather Deals Hammer Blow to Wide Farm Belt

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Agricultural areas in a belt running from New Jersey truck farms to Kansas pasture lands are being dealt a hammer blow by the searing weather gripping much of the country.

All of Missouri and portions of Kansas, Pennsylvania and Tennessee have been declared drought disaster areas. The next 10 days are considered critical for the corn crop in the central Midwest, and New Jersey farmers face the possibility of losing much needed irrigation water.

The situation in other areas is brighter. The West has had rain recently. Most pasture and crop damage there is blamed on the late spring drought and freeze.

The extreme heat is normal for the Deep South but has caused problems in the northern Midwest by forcing early crop maturation.

Ironically, heavy rains recently have damaged crops in scattered areas of the Midwest and West.

The drought disaster requests to allow grazing and haying on federally retired land have been prompted by plights like that of farmer James Clements of Yukon, Okla., who said: "We're already being forced to feed cattle because our pastures are turning up. If it keeps up, we might have to sell the whole bunch."

Marvin McLain, chairman of the Iowa Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said hot, dry weather hasn't hurt Iowa corn yet, but "it will become critical if the heat wave lasts without rain for another 10 days."

In Illinois, Edward Meagher, chairman of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said: "It's rapidly approaching the critical stage for corn and soybeans statewide. Some damage is occurring each day that the heat continues."

Board Agenda

tion, has submitted his resignation effective July 1, 1966. The Kelder appointment would be for the unexpired term ending July 1, 1970.

Supervisor Peter Williams (R), Saugerties, filed a resolution for reappointment of William D. Brinnier of Saugerties to the Ulster County Civil Service Commission for a six year term ending June 1, 1972.

Asks Arterial Study
A resolution by Supervisor Thaddeus Musiakiewicz (R), Ulster called for the board to postpone any approval of the new Arterial Route alignment of Route 9W in the town of Ulster until a study had been made on an alternate route. The resolution refers to that portion of the arterial Route in the Town of Ulster commencing at Route 32 and passing north through the town to the cloverleaf at Routes 199-209. The town officials are making a study of proposed alteration to the proposed plan which would isolate much of the business area of the town if the present plan is approved.

A resolution has also been filed in relation to payment of the Administrator of the county's "Assigned Counsel Plan." Last Nov. 30, the board adopted a plan for compensating attorneys who are assigned to indigent defendants. Former City Judge Joseph D. Saccoman was appointed administrator at a salary of $2,500 per year. In the past the salary has been paid on warrants. The resolution calls for the salary to be paid under the bi-weekly payroll plan.

Patrol Car in Crash

Two local patrolmen reported injuries Wednesday afternoon after a patrol car and another sedan collided at Foxhall and Albany Avenues. Officer Harry L. Short, driver of the police car, reported head and neck injuries, and Officer Louis Sapp, a back injury. Sgt. William Hanley, also in the car was uninjured. The mishap reported at 3:30 p. m., said a car driven by Dominic Charles Aussanio, 16, of 342 Clifton Avenue, came from the driveway of a used car lot and struck the patrol car on its right front.

Boosts Rolled Back

NEW YORK (AP)—Increases of 5 per cent in the price of molybdenum—a key ingredient in making high grade steel—have been rolled back by two major producers under federal pressure.

American Metal Climax Inc. and Molybdenum Corp. of America announced the roll-backs Wednesday, restoring their prices to the level they held last Friday when American Metal Climax initiated the boost.

Chairman Gardner Ackley of the President's Council of Economic Advisers had said the increase appeared to be unjustified and to add unnecessarily inflationary pressures on the economy.

shorter than expected. Collins said his work load won't be anywhere near as demanding, and will be reduced because his extravehicular activity is being split into two sections.

"We have some new stuff we wipe on the inner surface of the visor which seems to be effective in preventing visor fog," Collins said. The visor is treated prior to the flight. In addition, I'll carry sort of an impregnated cloth which I can use prior to each of the two EVA's to sort of give it the last finishing touch. The stuff is good for roughly 16 hours once it's put on."

Collide on Pike

Two cars were involved in a mishap on Glasco Turnpike, Town of Saugerties, on Wednesday. State Police Sergeant Charles Bundschuh of Kingston said the vehicles were operated by John Pape, Bronx, and Walter Wirth, 26, Route 3, Saugerties. No injuries were reported, according to Trooper Thomas Seales, who investigated.

The plant is at 1 Hudson Ave. The cause wasn't immediately known.
